Loyalty Check Board Created

Truman Looks Into Internal Security

By OLIVER W. DEWOLF
WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman has created a commission to report on how best to protect the nation's internal security without imperiling traditional freedoms.

His move drew a mixed reaction today from senators who have had leading roles in Capitol Hill disputes over Communist curbs.

Mr. Truman set up the nine-member, non-partisan commission late yesterday, and named retired Admiral Chester W. Nimitz to head it.

The president announced the commission would consider "the question of how this nation can best deal with the problem of protecting its internal security and at the same time maintaining the freedoms of its citizens."

One of the commission's major tasks, the president said in a statement, will be to consider the operations of the federal employee "loyalty and security programs."

These have come in for hot congressional criticism in the past.

But Mr. Truman did not limit the commission to that. He assigned it to study the whole field, including activities of state and local governments, "private groups of all kinds and citizens in their daily work and in their homes."

Civic Leader Who Beat George Welsh Dies In Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — (AP) — Julius H. Amberg, attorney and civic leader, died last night at the age of 60.

He had been ill for many months. He died at Butterworth hospital.

A veteran of public service, Amberg had held several federal posts, among them that of a special assistant to the secretary of war during World War II.

Amberg's most recent prominence, however, was with an affair right at home—the historic mayoralty recall battle of 1949 in which Mayor George W. Welsh was ousted.

Amberg led the campaign against Welsh, long powerful in city politics.

A native of Grand Rapids, Amberg was educated at Harvard and began his legal practice in 1910 in Chicago. He set up practice here in 1915.

He was president of the Michigan State Bar in 1939-40.

Lawmakers Critical Of Lansing Appointee, Pardoned Embezzler

LANSING — (AP) — The House Ways and Means committee looked critically yesterday at Governor Williams' appointment of Willis M. Brewer of Pontiac as the $7,500-a-year head of the state office of hospital survey and construction.

The committee called Williams in to question him about published reports that Brewer had served two years in prison for a 1931 embezzlement conviction. Brewer was pardoned fully by the late Governor William A. Cocks in 1935.

May Abolish Job
The ways and means committee has no power over a governor's appointments, but committee members hinted they might abolish Brewer's job next year or even abolish the agency.

Speaker of the House Victor A. Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie) said he did not think they had all the facts and that I would welcome a chance to inform them more fully.

In a formal statement to the press, Williams said "the matters referred to in the (news) story occurred 20 years ago. Mr. Brewer received a full pardon from Governor Cocks."

"The supreme court has ruled on more than one occasion that a pardon wipes out the past completely."

Billet Funds Used
A former commander of the American Legion, Brewer was convicted of embezzling $2,500 appropriated by Oakland county to the Legion's Otter Lake Billet.

Newsman asked the cold-angry Williams if he knew of Brewer's past when he appointed him.

"Certainly, I knew it," Williams said. "It was all published before when I appointed him state property manager in Detroit."

The legislature, without explaining its motives, abolished Brewer's salary for that job last spring, along with those of three other Democratic appointees.

Parolee Back Quickly

Skid Injures Four State College Coeds

LANSING — (AP) — Four Michigan State college coeds, returning from practice teaching assignments at Holt, were injured yesterday when their car skidded off the road and overturned.

Most seriously injured were Donna Fortier, Muskegon Junior, who suffered a fractured jaw and pelvis and Jean Grayum, Parma, Ohio, senior, who suffered a fractured pelvis.

Ann Lyman, Birmingham graduate student, and Nancy Gray, Lorain, Ohio, senior, sustained minor bruises. John Lathers, East Lansing graduate student, who was driving, and Patricia Woodward, Muskegon senior, escaped injury.

Senators Back Sending Troops Into Europe

Ceiling On Number Disputed Issue

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The administration can count on the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees to approve a resolution endorsing the dispatch of American troops to Europe.

A spot check by the Associated Press of 21 of the 26 members of the two committees showed that as of today 14 favor such a move and not one publicly opposes it.

A favorable recommendation by the two committees would carry heavy weight with the Senate itself.

Opinions Differ
However, there was a sharp but inconclusive difference of opinion among the 21 committee members reached on whether Congress should put a ceiling on the number of ground forces that may be dispatched under the North Atlantic treaty.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who favors limiting the number of divisions involved, has said he will carry that issue to the Senate floor.

Senator Connally (D-Tex) told reporters that if any such limitation were voted it "would discourage Europe and encourage Stalin to strike before there is enough manpower over there."

Connally said he will call together this week the Foreign Relations and the Armed Services Committee to look over a resolution assigned to them yesterday by unanimous agreement of the Senate. Connally is foreign relations chairman.

Korean Winter Aiding Allies

Frostbite Takes Toll Of Enemy Troops

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The man-killing Korean winter may be the strong ally which holds the Communist enemy there in check until Gen. Douglas MacArthur's divisions can be built up to normal strength next spring.

A high army officer, asked today why the military here in Korea appeared to be taking a more optimistic view of the war, replied:

"Winter is fighting for us." He said battlefield checks show an increasing mortality among enemy troops from the bitter weather of Korea, a rate great enough to have significant military importance.

Could UN forces launch a winter offensive? He asked.

Why try it? Replied the officer. There will be another six weeks or two month of bitter cold. It will kill and incapacitate more and more enemy troops. Why not just sit tight and let winter do our fighting? He asked.

The Pentagon officer estimated that the ratio of frostbite casualties to the Chinese and Korean Red soldiers as against those of U. N. forces might be as much as 20 to 1. Such a rate, if long continued, could help considerably in evening the manpower advantage the Reds had when they started their offensive early last month.

House Debates Yearly Session

Lansing Legislators Study Annual Terms

LANSING — (AP) — Alternative proposals for annual sessions of the legislature gathered steam among Michigan lawmakers today.

The House was slated this afternoon to debate its first legislative measure of the 1951 session, a constitutional amendment to hold "regular" sessions each year instead of once each two years.

The constitution now provides for a regular session starting in January each odd-numbered year and whatever special session the governor may call.

The Senate judiciary committee rejected out three proposed constitutional amendments, one of which would provide for a "limited regular" session in the even-numbered years.

The House proposal, sponsored by Rep. Louis A. Cramton (R-Lapeer) would order a legislative session to start the second Wednesday of every January and continue without limitation as to time or subject matter until concluded.

The Senate measure, sponsored by Senator Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing) would leave the present regular session in the odd-numbered years to start the first Wednesday in January, as now, but would call another session in the following year on the first Wednesday of March.

Secretary Bevin, 70, Ill With Pneumonia

LONDON — (AP) — The foreign office disclosed today that Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin has pneumonia.

Married Men May Be Called In Draft Soon

Michigan Boards Run Out Of Bachelors

(By The Associated Press)

When must Michigan's draft boards barge into the ranks of married men to fill the army's needs?

The time isn't far off, say many draft board chairmen and authorities at state selective service headquarters.

An Associated Press survey showed today that most officials agree the supply of non-veteran bachelors in the draft-eligible 19-26 age bracket will be exhausted in three months or so.

Then the boards must turn to married men — unless Congress enacts a proposed law that will extend the draft to include 18-year-olds.

Newly-Weds Taken
Many boards, their supply of single men running lower and lower, have already grabbed some married men—but only freshly-married ones.

These boards have set deadlines ranging from June 25 to Dec. 1 and are considering any men married after those deadlines as draft eligible.

Some boards are considering any men who marry after getting their pre-induction notices as draft eligible.

But men who married before those deadlines haven't been touched as the nation drives to increase its military manpower to 3,462,000 by June 30.

May Last 4 Months
What is the state selective service headquarters' viewpoint on taking married men? They say:

1—The supply of single, non-

Price Rollback Due Thursday; Freezing Of Wages Follows

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Price Stabilizer Michael Disalle said today he has given Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston recommendations for a general price freeze.

He made the statement before the joint Senate-House economic committee.

Quick Lid Predicted
Disalle did not make public details of his recommendations but said that an announcement probably will be made within a couple of days.

His testimony followed word from other officials that a price rollback may be expected tomorrow, possibly to be followed by a wage freeze on Friday.

An overall price ceiling at levels of Jan. 2 was reported by informed government sources to be in the works.

The wage action, it was understood, will put a lid on wages as of the day announced.

Johnston, long time president of the United States chamber of commerce and lately the president of the Motion Picture Association, is understood to be planning a radio and television broadcast tomorrow evening, at which time he will tell the public of his plans.

Truman Blamed
Senator Flanders (R-Vt) accused President Truman meanwhile, in effect, encouraging price and wage increases.

Flanders told reporters a specific case of "discrimination" against the auto industry was last week's coal agreement. It provided a 20-cent an hour wage hike for 400,000 coal miners, effective Feb. 1. It also brought an announcement from the mine operators that coal prices would have to be upped five or six percent.

"The government should have intervened to prevent that increased agreement and it should have stepped in to prevent similar increases in other fields," Flanders declared. "The administration has been wrong straight through in encouraging these continuous rises."

Organizing Europe's Defenses No Easy Job For Eisenhower

By PRESTON GROVER
LONDON — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has completed his tour of Europe's Atlantic pact nations with one sure finding—the job of building a defense will be brutally hard—but possible.

This correspondent has made the same tour, covered the same nations, and has talked to some of the people Gen. Eisenhower has seen and to some he has not.

Aggression Risk Great
Eisenhower, pausing now in Paris before he flies tomorrow to Iceland, Canada and Washington, so far has presented to each country roughly the same proposition. He has told each one:

1. The risk of Russian aggression, either by diplomatic pressure or troops, is great. Russian aggression means the end of everything western civilization represents.

2. America is arming, expensively and fast.

3. America will help Europe arm. What is the maximum Europe can contribute?

The answer in each case—with the possible exception of Britain—has not been enough to satisfy the man who must make western defense work.

Nations Scared
The hard fact is that most of Western Europe doesn't want to spend money and most of it is scared.

The west Europeans don't want to spend money because, in each case, it means giving up a lot of bacon, cars and shoes they only lately have again after long years of privation during and

Boys, 18, Called Cheap Security

Youth Draft Urged By Miss Rosenberg

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg said today the administration's plan to draft 18-year-olds would assure the nation its "greatest long-term security at the lowest cost in men and money."

The defense department's top manpower official told the House Armed Services committee the plan provides for both a swift expansion of the armed forces and a ready reserve supply of trained military manpower.

Under the universal military service. The draft period would be extended from the present 21 to 27 months.

In the Senate, the Armed Services subcommittee resumes its public hearings on the measure today after a one-day recess. Representatives of scientific, dental, engineering and education groups were scheduled to testify.

Downtown Muskegon Store Safe Looted

MUSKEGON — (AP) — A 350-pound safe containing $1,000 in cash and another $1,000 in checks and war savings bonds was carted away from the B. F. Goodrich Co. retail store in downtown Muskegon early today.

The robbers forced their way into the store through a rear door and dragged out the safe under a counter. Police believe they would have needed a truck to make their get-away.

A snowfall hid vehicle tracks.

Surprised Reds Put To Flight In Mining Town

Communists Use 500 Women Rifleman

TOKYO — (AP) — Allied troops slashed more than 10 miles beyond Wonju on the central Korean front today and to the southeast recaptured the key mountain town of Yongwol.

A heavily-armed patrol with tanks blazed through Hoengsong, 10 miles north of Wonju, and pushed on to within 33 miles of the 38th parallel before withdrawing, a field dispatch said.

It was the farthest northward advance by any allied force since Seoul, the Korean capital, was abandoned. On the way back the task force was engaged by a company of enemy troops. The Reds retreated with heavy casualties.

Han River Crossed
The Han river town of Yongwol southeast of Wonju fell to allied attack after an air and artillery bombardment.

The capturing force was not identified. However, the U. S. Seventh division has been operating south of the Tungsten mining town.

(P) correspondent Tom Stone said the attacking force drove across the ice-covered Han river after an intense air and artillery barrage.

The surprised Reds fled, leaving only light opposition.

Air Force Reopens Enlistments Feb. 1

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The air force will resume acceptance of volunteer enlistments on Feb. 1, after a several weeks' embargo because of crowded conditions at indoctrination centers.

The air force announced yesterday its scheduled call for admission of 1,200 recruits daily at Lackland, Texas, air force base and 300 daily at the newly-reopened Sampson, N. Y., air training base.

The Navy said its freeze on enlistments, also imposed because of heavy volunteering, will continue at least to the end of this week.

Truckload Of Syrup Sweetens Up Coosa

VERBENA, Ala. — (AP) — The sweetest little river in these parts today is the Coosa.

A trailer-truck carrying a load of syrup fell into the stream near here yesterday when a ferry couldn't hold it.

The driver attempted to back off the ferry when it became apparent something was going to give. But rotation of the truck wheels pushed the ferry away from the shore, and the truck was dumped smack in the middle of the river.

U. P. Extension Council To Meet

The Upper Peninsula agricultural, 4-H club and home economics extension council, and all Michigan State College extension personnel will meet Thursday and Friday in conference at Marquette.

Delta county representatives on the council are Mrs. Nap Morin, Escanaba, home economics; Mrs. Ted McFadden, Cornell, 4-H club; and Grey Knaus of Cornell, agricultural council.

All members of the extension staff in the county, including J. L. Heirman, county agent; Miss Ingrid Tervonen, home demonstration agent; Mel Nyquist, 4-H agent; and Miss Laurel Plourde, secretary, will attend.

Pharmacy Students Visit Drug Plant

BIG RAPIDS—Sidney Miller of Escanaba, a junior in the Ferris Institute College of Pharmacy, has just returned from Detroit where he spent three days as the guest of the Parke, Davis and company. He was among a group of 112 pharmacy students and six sponsors from Ferris who were guests at the Book Cadillac hotel for the three days.

The group enjoyed tours of the plants and offices of the big Detroit pharmaceutical firm, attended dinner and luncheon events, theatre parties and made a tour of Detroit.

Schedule Three 4-H Dairy Club Meetings

A series of three meetings on calf care and management, of interest to 4-H dairy club members, their club leaders, and parents, will be held in Delta county next week, it was announced today by Mel Nyquist, county 4-H agent.

J. L. Heirman, county agricultural agent, will conduct the instruction meetings, to be held at the following places:
Monday, 8 p. m., Danforth school; Tuesday, 8 p. m., Pine Ridge school; Thursday, 8 p. m., Rapid River high school.

Much Environmental Sanitation Work Is Done In U. P. In '50

In supervising environmental sanitation in Upper Michigan during 1950, five communities were assisted in solving technical problems related to artificial swimming pools, Russell Johnson, U. P. sanitation engineer for the state health department reports.

District sanitarians were assisted with pool problems at Blaney park, Menominee, Munising, Painesdale and Sault Ste. Marie. Special help was given city officials in Ironwood, in solving a colored water problem at the municipal pool; and at Ishpeming, where safety hazards were eliminated at a pool.

The department reviewed plans and issued construction permits for a new wading pool at Escanaba and for an artificial outdoor pool at Mackinac Island.

Activities at the Northern Peninsula office also included reporting and interpreting results of routine bacteriological analyses, reviewing monthly operation reports, and preparing recommendations for improvement of nine artificial indoor and outdoor swimming pools in Upper Michigan.

Resort Sanitation
The engineering office also assisted county health departments in detection of sewage pollution, in cooperation with the Michigan Water Resources commission, and the department laboratories at Powers and Houghton. Lakes and streams frequented by tourists and bathing beaches maintained by children's camps and municipalities were examined in connection with this program.

Rural Phones Are Increased

8,000 New Units Are Installed In State

The Michigan Bell Telephone company furnished rural telephone service to more than 8,000 new customers during 1950.

With the placement of new facilities, which included the installation of more than 3,000 circuit-miles of line, Michigan Bell was still unable to meet the unprecedented demand for service in rural areas. On the company's waiting list at the end of the year were some 4,500 potential users.

While demand for service overran the company's ability to erase entirely the rural telephone waiting list, Michigan Bell was able to pare nearly 1,000 from the "held order" figure which the company faced at the end of 1949.

"Although the company closed the year with a substantial increase in the number of users to whom service was furnished, the prospects for further expansion of rural facilities are not too certain in the face of the new national emergency," said Hans P. Anderson, Michigan Bell's farm telephone manager.

"During World War II, Michigan Bell furnished facilities to 79 military and 86 war-production establishments and is again making preparations to meet similar demands in the new emergency. Millions of dollars of new capital will be required to meet these needs and the continued demand by civilian users," Anderson said.

In urgent circumstances, some rural customers were furnished service by being placed on a party line which was already at best-service capacity but the "overloading" was mandatory. In these cases, even though they affected a small percentage of rural customers, the company "continued with every effort to reduce the figure."

Global War Fears Eased In Europe, Says UN Secretary

NEW YORK—(AP)—U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie, back from a trip to Europe, says there is "less fear of imminent world war" there than there was last summer.

Lie said the increased hope that a conflagration can be avoided is due partly to the United Nations intervention in Korea and the U. N.'s "united action for peace."

Lie said, however, that he was "very much disappointed" when Communist China last week rejected the U. N. cease-fire proposal for Korea.

He spent the Christmas holidays at his home in Oslo, Norway. Later, he visited France, Switzerland and England to survey possible sites for the next U. N. General assembly meeting. No site has been chosen yet.

REDUCES WITH RENNEL ENJOYS LIFE AGAIN

"I tried Rennel Concentrate and the results were remarkable. With it I lost 25 pounds and have lots of pep again," writes Mrs. Wanda Repp, 1125 Chopin, R. I. Royal Oak, Mich. "Before taking Rennel I was always tired, always run down, never felt like dressing to go to the club or to the movies. Rennel took away that bloated feeling and so many have noted a change in me. Thanks again to Rennel."

Thousands of others have overcome the social and physical discomfort of being overweight with this effective home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Insist on Rennel.

C&NW Safety Awards Given

11 Supervisors Get Certificates Here

Awards of merit certificates for safety records established by the men under their supervision were presented today to 11 supervisors of the Chicago & North Western railroad at the Peninsula division superintendent's office in Escanaba.

A. L. Schultz, Chicago, safety supervisor of the C&NW system, presented the award of merit certificates to the supervisors of the Peninsula division, citing particularly the outstanding safety record of Roadmaster A. Mau of Marinette. Under Mau's supervision his men have not had a reportable accident in the past 20 years.

Other excellent safety records, with awards of merit received, were won by the following: J. E. Dunn, agent-yardmaster, Marinette; R. E. Moreau, yardmaster, Escanaba; Silas McMartin, yardmaster, Escanaba; R. W. Keene, agent, Menominee; J. N. Quayle, yardmaster, Ishpeming; Tim Murphy, yardmaster, Stambaugh; I. J. Barber, agent, Escanaba; A. R. Anderson, yardmaster, Escanaba; C. T. Weir, car foreman, Escanaba.

A similar award also was presented to Ments Peterson of Escanaba, who before his retirement about one year ago established an excellent safety record as night general foreman at the C&NW ore docks.

Plans and specifications for new school buildings at Skandia and Gwynn were reviewed by the engineer's office, for compliance with adopted standards for water supply, sewage disposal and other phases of school sanitation. In 13 counties, full-time sanitarians serve the areas, and the local health departments in these review architectural plans and specifications for new buildings.

Disease Prevention
The engineering department of the Northern Peninsula office also participated in a public forum at Crystal Falls on the desirability of modernizing the school lighting system. In Chocoma township near Marquette and in Ironwood township, the department assisted township boards of education on water supply, sewage disposal and food sanitation problems in existing schools.

Health department activities at schools and resorts included prevention of food-borne diseases through inspection of sources, storage, preparation and serving of food at restaurants and other establishments.

The department participated in food-handlers' instruction classes at Iron River, and assisted county sanitarians, school nurses and others in arranging for use of state films, special conferences with nutrition personnel and for help in planning food and milk sanitation.

Interstate Milk Inspected
Dairy plant and farm inspection and milk testing by six county and district health departments and a city health department in the peninsula were surveyed and discussed.

Inspections were made by the engineer's office, in cooperation with local health units and the state department of agriculture, of plants at Manistiquie, Hancock, Marquette, Menominee, Sault Ste. Marie and St. Ignace, which supply milk to interstate carriers.

Questionable water supplies at dairy farms and two pasteurization plants were investigated at the request of local health units in the peninsula.

The U. P. engineering section of the health department also cooperated with U. P. city and township health officers in work concerned with water supply, sewage disposal and environmental sanitation. In May, the unit participated in a three-day conference for sanitarians at Crystal Falls.

Private Larson, son of Mrs. Anna Larson of Ensign, arrived at Lowry Air Force base, where he received basic training. He is a graduate of Rapid River high school.

Private Sigl entered the service Dec. 22 and also reported to Lowry AFB following training at Lackland base in San Antonio, Texas. He is the son of Mrs. Celia M. Sigl of Gould City.

Low Bids On U. P. Road

Jobs Total $1,062,315

The state highway department today listed bidders on six Upper Peninsula highway improvement projects, with the low bids totaling $1,062,315.15 for the proposed work.

Bids were opened yesterday at the Escanaba office of the department and forwarded to Lansing for determination of low bidders and the awarding of contracts.

Three bridges, including the spanning of Big Cedar River on M-35 about 30 miles south of Escanaba; about 16½ miles of grading and drainage and aggregate surfacing on trunkline highways; and the production of 186,400 tons of gravel for state highway resurfacing are included in the proposed projects.

The projects and the low bidders are as follows:

SCHOOLCRAFT COUNTY — 3.201 miles of grading and drainage structures and aggregate surfacing course on M-77 from M-28 at Seney north.

KEWEENAW COUNTY — 7.591 miles of grading and drainage structures and stabilized aggregate surface on US-41 from 1½ miles west of Central easterly along US-41.

Bring Veneer From Africa

Processed Wood Sent To Plant In Algoma

Special to Press-Gazette
ALGOMA, Wis. — The first part of an 800,000-square-foot shipment of African-cut Korina veneer slitches has arrived at the Algoma Plywood and Veneer company plant here, representing a revolutionary departure from the traditional methods of manufacturing plywood from African woods.

The Algoma Plywood factory has been turning out Korina plywood for the past several years, but the shipment of veneer represented three years of work and planning at a veneer cutting plant at Boma Limba, Belgian Congo, located on the west coast of Africa.

The African setup has been three years in the making. The U. S. Plywood corporation began surveys and plans for the plant and available timber supplies convenient to the cutting site were noted. These surveys preceded definite steps for the construction of the factory.

Wheeler in Charge
About a year ago two men were sent to Africa to set up machinery and to start production, after first getting their training at the Algoma plant. When cutting was begun, Carl Wheeler, formerly of Algoma, was sent there to take charge of the cutting.
Korina has been manufactured in Algoma for about four years, but up to this time the logs were shipped to the United States from Africa and cut into veneer in this country. Shipping the logs had its disadvantages in that determining what's inside a log is practically impossible until the log is opened. Because of that, many logs were brought over only to be found unsatisfactory for face veneer. With the new veneer-cutting operation in Africa, only top-quality veneer need be shipped.

Menominee C-C Seeks Industry

Is Making Survey Of Its Advantages

MENOMINEE, Mich.—A survey of Menominee's vacant buildings and sites for industrial and business concerns is being conducted by John Reindl, new secretary of the Menominee Chamber of Commerce, in a revitalized Chamber activity to induce new industry and business firms to locate here, the Menominee Rotary club was told Monday. Reindl was speaker at Rotary's weekly luncheon in Wells House.

Reindl said he was working in co-operation with Mayor Otto R. Eickmeyer and city officials on promotion of industrial sites owned by the city. He said he had assurances of the city that the sites would be donated to any worthwhile industry the Chamber can induce to come here.

Reindl said his two weeks on the Chamber job convinced him there is a genuine desire on the part of Menominee industry and business to get new firms here and pointed out that this city's diversified industries account for the highest employment rolls in the U. P.

Everyone Is To Blame For Black Traffic Record In United States

THE panel discussions on traffic safety at the meetings of the Escanaba Rotary Lions clubs here Monday noon and evening failed to develop any definite solution to the problem of traffic accidents. That is not surprising because in reality there is no single cause of traffic accidents. Even carelessness, which all traffic experts concede is the prime cause of many traffic mishaps, is not to blame for all of them.

Sgt. Ralph Sheahan of the Michigan State Police, who led the discussions on the traffic problem, emphasized that the public should avoid placing the blame for traffic accidents on a "whipping boy."

The advice is logical and reasonable. It is easy to say that the police—or the courts—are to blame for the high traffic toll because of lax enforcement. Or to blame the "parents" because of the bad traffic accident record of young drivers. The record shows a variety of causes for road mishaps, serious and otherwise.

It is senseless to single out a single group and point a finger of responsibility at them. By the same token, it is just as senseless to exonerate any single group from responsibility for the terrible toll of deaths and injuries on the nation's highways.

The parents, the police, the courts, the car manufacturers, the road engineers, motorists of all ages—the general public—all must assume part of the blame for the condition that has become a national calamity. All must contribute their share in licking the problem.

It may never be possible to completely eliminate the traffic accident problem. But traffic experts know from actual traffic accident records that the big cause of accidents, particularly traffic fatalities, is speed on the highways. If some way could be developed to cut down the speed of motorists and to increase the distances between cars on the highways, we would be contributing more to a big reduction in traffic mishaps than any thing else we might do.

Iron Ore Conveyor Proposed At Sault

NOW that we are engaged in another huge war program we can expect a revival of schemes for insuring the steady flow of iron ore from the Lake Superior region to lower lake ports.

World War II produced the Escanaba dock project, labeled as an insurance move to make possible the diversion of iron ore from the Minnesota and Gogebic ranges in the event of the destruction of the Sault locks.

Another project proposed at intervals in the last half century has been the Au Train canal. Under this plan a shipping canal would be dug from Au Train on Lake Superior to Rapid River at the head of Little Bay de Noc. Local pressure has resulted in the making of surveys by army engineers, but in each case the decision has been adverse.

Gilbert Nelson, resort operator on Sugar Island, recently proposed in a letter to Senator Homer Ferguson that the federal government construct a conveyor belt for more than a mile on the waterpower canal right-of-way in Sault Ste. Marie. Nelson apparently got the idea from the much-publicized plan to install a belt to convey coal and iron ore in Ohio.

Before going into the resort business on Sugar Island in 1947, Nelson was a promotion expert for the Philco corporation in New York and Farnsworth Television corporation in Chicago.

According to Nelson's plan, docks and unloading cranes would be installed on the north end of the waterpower canal to receive iron ore from Lake Superior boats in the event the Sault locks were put out of commission. The ore would be transported on the conveyor belt to a point below the Union Carbide plant, where it would be reloaded in boats bound for lower lake ports.

It's just one man's idea, but it might have some merit. What puzzles us, however, is the question whether bombs would destroy the conveyor belt as well as the Sault locks.

GOOD CITIZENS, ROTARIANS (Detroit News)

Whatever the reasoning which prompts a Vatican ban on membership of the Roman Catholic clergy in Rotary clubs, it will be difficult for Americans of any faith to see how it could relate to Rotary as we know it.

Wherever it is found in this country the Rotary group is one of decent, solid persons with a stake in the community, dedicated as a body to good works which the individual member could not manage alone.

What Rotary is, is clear enough from a study of a year's activities and commitments of any of its clubs hereabouts, or anywhere in the land. And this applies equally to other service clubs in the Rotary pattern.

Rotary's present international head is a staunch Catholic. That the clubs anywhere touch on sectarian matters appears to be news to him. Certainly it is to the rest of us.

As to its effect in this country, there will be speculation as to the wisdom of an attitude which requires the Catholic clergy to abstain from further valuable participation in many community efforts which no one person or church can effectuate as well.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—One of the big things bothering Congress about drafting 18-year-olds is the problem which Winston Churchill pounded home on President Roosevelt when he opposed a second front across the English Channel.

"I do not," said the prime minister in typical Churchillian language, "propose to lose the seed of the British empire."

What he had in mind was the fact that in 1914, the cream of Britain's young men had been shipped across the English Channel and mowed down in Flanders. Those first waves of troops that went to Belgium included the best-trained men in the nation.

Today it is a recognized fact in both England and France that national leadership is more difficult because of those 1914-15 casualties. Men who were 18 and 19 during the battle of Flanders would be 54 and 55 today, and in their prime for leadership. But their ranks were seriously decimated.

In the United States today the question of drafting 18-year-olds is serious for another reason. They are what are known as depression babies—born during the nadir of the depression in 1932.

In those depression years babies were fewer. People couldn't afford them. And many congressmen now feel we cannot afford to lose too much of the "seed" of the nation.

This also applies to 19-year-olds, and will apply to the youngsters who become 18 year year and the year after. All are depression babies. That's why more thought is being given to some system whereby education can be continued along with military training.

PRAYER—NOT PRESSURE

A group of lobbyists who specialize in prayer—instead of pressure—called on GOP Congressman George Bender of Ohio the other day.

The delegation included Presbyterians, Methodists, Baptists, Mennonites and members of other faiths from Wooster, Ohio. After talking over domestic and world problems with Bender, one of the visitors suggested:

"Let us kneel and pray that Congress will get the divine guidance it needs in the days ahead."

Bender knelt with his callers.

"Those kind of lobbyists don't have to register with the clerk of the House," remarked the hefty Ohioan, who won back his congressional seat in November. "They are registered up yonder."

27-CENT DOLLAR

The housewives probably won't be surprised at this, though the figures look pretty bad on paper. However, the inescapable fact is that the 1939 dollar is now worth only 27 cents, when it comes to buying such everyday items as butter, coffee, cocoa, sugar, silk and print cloth.

This is shown in the price increases of 28 commodities, compiled daily by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

In other words, what a dollar would buy in 1939 now costs approximately $3.65. This is a measure of how the dollar's purchasing power has dwindled for the following commodities: barley, burlap, butter, cocoa bean, coffee, copper, corn, cotton, cottonseed oil, flaxseed, hides, hogs, lard, lead, print cloth, rosin rubber, shellac, silk, steel scrap, steers, sugar, tallow, tin, wheat, wool tops and zinc.

WHO KILLED PRICE CONTROL

Members of the administration will admit in their off-ments that blame for the present zooming cost of living goes straight up to the White House itself.

In the first place, the Republicans were smart enough to give the president all the power to control prices he wanted — and then some. And he has failed to use them. Congress extended these powers late last summer but they have lain dormant ever since.

Second, the president has failed to pick experienced men to handle price — wage control, though he had a handful of experts around the corner whom he could have called in overnight.

Take My Word For It ... Frank Colby

ORIGIN OF "GOODBY"

Through all the ages the idea of parting has filled men with sadness and foreboding. One's last wish has ever been a sort of prayer for divine protection and guidance.

"God be with you till we meet again," is the thought that is still expressed in one's last good wishes. The Latin ad Deum, "to God" (I commend you to God), is preserved in the French adieu, the Italian addio, and the Spanish adios. In German the wish is worded thus: Gehen Sie mit Gott, "go thou with God."

In English, "goodbye" has so long prevailed that one seldom thinks of the word as invoking divine protection. It has come to be simply a parting word with as little actual meaning as its opposite "hello." Yet, goodbye originally was a sort of prayer. It evolved thus: God be with ye; God be wi ye; God bw ye; God byye; Good-bye; and good-by.

The word "speed" once meant "to fare well to prosper." Hence, to wish one "Godspeed" was equivalent to saying: May God protect you.

The colloquial "so long," too, is without definite meaning, but it is thought to be a corruption of the Moslem salutation, Salaam aleikum "may peace (of God) be upon you." The phrase is supposed to have been brought to America by Negro slaves from Arabia speaking North Africa.

The word "Mizpah" was once customarily and is even yet occasionally used as a talisman on engraved on a parting gift of a ring, locket, or watch. It is from the Hebrew word mitspeh, "watchtower." Its figurative meaning is taken from the 31st chapter of Genesis, when Jacob parted from his wife's father, Laban, he erected a pillar of stones, a symbol which Laban called Jegar-shadutha, a Chaldean word meaning "the heap of witness," and which Jacob called Gilead, a Hebrew word of the same meaning.

In a few hours' span every kind of weather can be encountered in the United States at this season, from freezing cold to sweltering heat. Above is a winter scene typical of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. But in other parts of the United States weather conditions very considerably. In Death Valley winter temperatures have reached as high as 134 degrees — in the shade.

It Takes All Kinds Of Weather To Make A Winter in the U. S. A.

By WILLIAM ULLMAN

Anything can happen in the way of weather in an American winter. As a matter of fact, not only can anything happen but it invariably does, added proof, if any were needed, that there's an awful lot of climate as well as territory distributed over the United States.

For example, where you are right now it may be bleak, overcast and the temperature around freezing, or a little under.

But within a few hours' ride by automobile, airplane or railroad it may be rain, ice, glorious sunshine, clothes and a dip in the ocean. Or so cold that not all the heavens and fur coats are enough to keep out the blasts of a roaring blizzard.

In this country of ours one often can experience within twenty-four hours practically every known kind of weather condition: fog, rain, ice, glorious sunshine, thunder, lightning, snow, sleet, hail—and temperatures ranging from 70 above freezing to 50 degrees below and at all levels in between.

It doesn't seem possible that heat waves could be troublesome at this time of year. Yet it's true that in some parts of this country (not including Death Valley where it always is too hot) people actually complain about the mounting mercury in the dead of winter.

Sudden Changes

And, overnight one may go from an ice-bound countryside to green fields—and back to ice again.

As a matter of fact, travelers in this country occasionally run into a weather phenomenon which gives them winter-and-summer in twenty-four hours but within a few minutes. Driving through a rugged area surrounded by mountains they encounter a fierce blizzard and the driving wind is filled with ice and snow, while the roadside becomes heavily drifted. Continuing to drive ahead in the face of the storm, a sudden shift in the wind is noted which brings an amazing change. It begins blowing from the southwest, gently at first, then powerfully. Almost at once the air becomes warm, balmy and spring-like. The snow turns wet and heavy and finally disappears as though on blotting paper, vanishing entirely in a few minutes.

This is the American Chinook in operation: a wind remarkably warm and dry. The dryness is caused when the wind drops its load of snow or rain on one side of a mountain and then is superheated when it rushes down the other side. Over the countryside affected by the Chinook it becomes spring in winter, all in a few minutes.

It is not very long ago the winter tourist was looked upon as a hardy species. Within the memory of many motorists touring formerly denoted sunny summer days. Today, however, thousands upon thousands of Americans think no more of climbing into the family car in January for forays into distant parts than they do of driving over to the next county.

The reason for this is quite clear. Mechanical refinement of motor vehicles and improvement of highways all over the United States and bordering countries have progressed to the point where former hazards no longer need be taken into account.

Highways Kept Open But perhaps quite as important has been the belated discovery by a large sector of motordom that winter touring does not necessarily involve a titanic struggle with the elements.

Motorists have learned that approximately a third of the nation has near-summer temperatures throughout the winter months, while another third is fairly temperate and even in the belt of snow and ice the mercury usually remains above zero.

Most important of all, from the viewpoint of the prospective tourist, is the fact that however severe the weather may become, trunk highways, thanks to modern scientific snow-clearing apparatus, are perpetually kept open to traffic. Many secondary roads, too, are plowed with regularity during the snow season. In other words the question of being able to "get through" need never cause apprehension, however distant one's destination may be.

It may be hazarded that, all other things being equal, the majority of those toying with the idea of embarking upon winter motor tours will instinctively gaze southward. Bidden or unbidden there will return to their mind's eye the rotagrature section portrayals of visions of ravishing young beauty cavorting on the laughing sands of a hundred Southland beaches. Florida and southern California are sounding their call.

These pictures often are sufficient enticement, denoting in the sinuous grace of their subjects a carefree world of pleasure, far from the harassments of workaday life, but Dixie means more than that. Stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific and along the Gulf Coast and through the Southwest is a broad belt of country where it is almost always summer in some degree. And it is dotted with myriad things Americans should see.

The sub-tropic attractions of Florida and the Golden State in mid-winter are too well-known to need expatiation. But all over the South there are areas and points of historic and scenic interest Americans should not fail to visit. Throughout the seaboard, from Virginia clear down to New Orleans the spirit of the Old South broods, punctuated with such modernisms as golf and other recreations at numerous famed resorts.

Striking westward our pilgrim will see famous Stone Mountain and farther north the fabulous rural improvement development centering at Muscle Shoals. Down on the Gulf Coast there is fishing and hunting and romantic New Orleans. Farther west the tourist enters the great empire that is Texas and its surrounding states, where oil and cattle and grain conjure wealth from the soil.

From Laredo one may pursue the new Pan-American highway into Mexico and beyond, but if the tourist elects his own country and pushes still farther west he will see historic Sante Fe, the Pueblo ruins, Gallup with its Indian tribal ceremonies, the Petrified Forest and Gila Cliff dwellings, the Roosevelt and Coolidge dams and finally the great Boulder Dam.

Death Valley Always Hot

Proceeding into California the tourist probably will skirt sinister Death Valley, although this graveyard of pioneers is traversable by modern motor cars, Yosemite National Park, the giant redwoods which had sprung out of the earth in Bible times, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Hollywood and the many recreations that abound on the shores of the Pacific.

Mild temperatures prevail at most times far up the coast but turning inland the tourist should be prepared for more severe weather, until up in the Rockies one indeed meets King Winter himself. Back across the Plains States the tourist sees the great food basket of the nation and its many concomitants. Many undisturbed natural wonders should be visited, such as the Mammoth Cave in Kentucky, Natural Bridge and Shenandoah valley and the caverns back in Virginia. Then turning north one might well become acquainted with the industrial America of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, and the other states of the Northwestern tier.

But there is a good-sized segment of the motoring public, descended no doubt from the typical winter tourist of years ago, who desire their winter touring served piping hot. For them there is the broad strip across the top of the United States from Maine to Oregon where the robust sports of skating, skiing, hockey and bob-sledding trumpet an invitation to the hearty ones who like the bite of cold upon their faces.

But whether it's snow, or rain, sleet or thunder, bitter cold or foggy damp, bright sunshine and crisp air, there's no doubt at all that in so far as weather in concerned, there never is a dull moment in these United States—and especially in wintertime.

You name it, we have it!

Letters From The People

Franco Fights Reds

Dear Editor:

Suddenly, we hear the very old news from President Truman that Russia wants to rule the world. Back in the thirties, England became alarmed over Russia's aims so she sent airplane motors to Germany to bolster the latter's resistance against a possible attack by Communists. The Fascist and Nazi parties were organized largely for the purpose of quelling Communist uprisings in Germany and Italy.

So They Say

An infant is like a puppy dog. Puppies don't know right from wrong. If they are disciplined, then they may learn.—Dr. Joseph Wall of Washington, D. C.

As a matter of defense, we need the combined resources and the common determination of the free world to meet the military threat of communism.—President Truman.

The tartan tuxedo was just too conspicuous.—Harry E. Fiorini, Philadelphia tailor, predicting vivid blue and green dinner jackets.

Many difficult diagnostic problems will melt away if doctors will patiently listen, carefully take and retake the histories and get all the facts in the case.—Dr. Douglas D. Bond, professor of psychiatry, Western Reserve University Medical School.

I think if we're pushed out of Korea, all of Asia will go under Communist control. A wave of defeatism will go all over Europe. People will drift over to the Communist side.—Sen. Paul A. Douglas (D., Ill.).

Spain is another country that is under a dictatorship today, because of intervention by Communists. Much has been said about General Franco's greed and hunger for power, and yet, we cannot condemn all his actions, since we are doing some of the things that he did. He opposed Communism. So do we. He sought for assistance from Italy and Germany, so do we.

The Spaniards should be as acceptable on our side as the Reds were during the last war. (Stalin is a dictator, too, as bad as Hitler or Mussolini, according to the President). After Pearl Harbor, we still will accept the help of Japan, yet we refuse to warm up toward the Spaniards who did not actually wage war against us.

There are over three million Spanish soldiers under arms, ready to join our side. Were it not for that big, bad boy, Franco, the troops would be on the side of Communism. We have been slightly narrow minded in our attitude toward Spain, in view of the serious threat of Communism.

Recently, President Truman sounded a bit foolish when he recognized Spain "reluctantly." Even if we had good reasons for being reluctant, such utterances would make unfavorable impressions abroad. In effect, the President was confessing to the world, that, due to our weak position, we were compelled to recognize Spain against our will.

A not too proud citizen.

Drafting Women

Dear Editor:

When I hear talk about drafting women into the war service, it burns me up. I am a man past sixty and I'm still worth more than half a dozen women in any battle.

Good Evening ...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

SIGN OF SPRING — The seed catalog came in the mail the other day. As usual it pictures some of the most beautiful flowers and vegetables ever seen.

Obviously the average gardener should be able to do as well if he will buy the right seeds. Our experience has been quite the other way. We buy the best seeds, keep the bugs off the plants, fertilize the soil, water them carefully—and the crop is usually disappointing.

So are hopes dashed, despite the best intentions. This is supported in a letter received from Julie J. Potvin of 606 Dakota avenue, Gladstone, who only recently discovered the cause of his horticultural failure.

IN GOOD FAITH—Potvin's letter is as follows:

"I wonder if you would please publish the attached letter from the Department of Botany and Plant Pathology of Michigan State college.

"To make a long story short, the specimen they refer to in the letter is a bulb or water plant that is supposed to bloom in water.

"My wife and I purchased it at the U. P. State Fair last fall in Escanaba from the small concession. The price was 35 cents or three for $1. The way the vendor described the bulb, it was supposed to be placed in a basin of water about six inches deep, and the water changed twice a week.

"Within three weeks it was to start blooming. Then three weeks later it would develop into a beautiful flower about eight inches in circumference. The colors would vary, some would be white and purple, some rich maroon and white, etc. The samples they had were beautiful to gaze upon—beautiful enough to make you gladly pay 35 cents apiece for the bulb.

"But to our disappointment ours never did bloom. Nor did our neighbor's bloom, or those bought by anyone else we knew of. To tell you the truth, I don't believe any they sold ever bloomed.

"By publishing the attached letter it will help to satisfy the curiosity of the many people besides ourselves who purchased these bulbs. They will know what sort of a plant it really is.

"And maybe someone will report that the bulb they bought did bloom—and if it did I would like to have them contact me, for I would like to think they were not a complete gyp."

TRAPA BISPINOSA—Following is the letter to Potvin from Charles L. Gilly, assistant professor and curator of botanical collections, Michigan State college:

"The specimen which you sent in for identification some time ago has been identified as the fruit of Trapa bispinosa, the common name of this plant is Jesuit's Nut. It is an aquatic plant having white, inconspicuous flowers and is a native of China.

"Children play with them; they are also used as an offering on Christmas and New Year to minor gods. The meat is edible. It is also a symbol of good luck. Ling-gak is the Chinese name."

NOT SO LUCKY—Obviously Mr. and Mrs. Potvin, once having parted with coin of the realm of Trapa bispinosa, could not be expected to play with them as do children, offer them up at Christmas or New Year, or eat them.

They bought them to produce beautiful flowers eight inches in circumference. But even if they grew, the plants could be expected to produce only "white, inconspicuous flowers," as Mr. Gilly reports.

Under the circumstances, we would say that the purchasers in America were far from lucky in acquiring those "symbols of good luck" from China.

ADDED INFORMATION — One of the younger and more gullible members of our family purchased a "flowering" bulb at the fair last year from another concessionaire.

You were supposed to place it in water, paper covering and all, and watch it spring into beauty in a matter of minutes. It was put in water and nothing happened. After considerable poking it came apart—two tiny green paper leaves with a sad-looking red paper bloom floating in the middle.

I'm still sticking to the seed catalog in the hope that someday the seeds I buy will grow into plants that bloom like those on the cover.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba — Aileen Gaffney and Jon Flanagan have been invited to present a program of fancy skating at the Munising Winter Carnival.

Escanaba—One more item was added to the airplane rescue record of Lt. Wally Arntzen of Escanaba Sunday. Arntzen landed his ski-equipped plane on an ice float off Portage Point and picked up two fishermen, Earl Johnson and Hugo Lindquist, who were being carried out into the lake by the sudden breakup of ice which developed while they were lifting nets. The ice had drifted a mile when Arntzen came to the rescue.

Gladstone—Lyle C. Bizeau has returned to Chanute Field, in Rantoul, Ill., after visiting relatives here.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Three Upper Michigan skiers are entered in the meet Sunday sponsored by the Detroit Eki club at Rochester. They are Walter Anderson and John Erkila of Ishpeming and Bert Wilchek of Ironwood.

The Hague—Mme. Anna Pavova, considered the world's greatest ballerina, died early this morning after a three-day illness caused by influenza and pleurisy.

Chicago—Four years ago it was white rats; this year it's a scrawny donkey, a burro and western cowhorse which will be used as props in Mayor William Hale Thompson's campaign for re-election.

Good Job

By Gordon Martin

If your job is digging ditches, just be sure you dig them good, and you'll have the satisfaction that you did the best you could. If you labor as a banker, just be sure you're just and fair, and you'll be a better fellow than a grasping millionaire. If you work at washing dishes, just be sure to get them clean, and the knowledge that you did will help to make your life serene.

If you practice law, be ethical, and give the case your best, and you'll find you're better able when you next are put to test. If you build a lofty building, make it sound and make it strong, and you'll never have to hide your face, like those who build them wrong. If you sew a seam, make certain that it represents your skill, and you'll always find your customers will gladly pay the bill.

Shining shoes or curing illness, selling goods or driving trucks, there's a heap of other profit in addition to the bucks. For it doesn't matter what your job is, it's one to do with pride, and to give the best that's in you and to know you really tried. And if you can say, on looking back, you're not an also-ran, then you've helped yourself and helped preserve the dignity of man.

New Air Raid Warning Alarm Installed Here

A new telephone and loudspeaker connected with a private telephone line to play air raid warnings has been installed at the Escanaba police station.

Previously a single telephone hookup with colored buttons was used in here. The installation was made by Escanaba telephone company employees at the direction of the Eastern Air Defense command.

The telephone hook-up for exchange of warnings between all key warning centers is part of the civil defense set-up, operated by the U. S. Air Force, from Stewart air field headquarters at Newburgh, N. Y.

In Upper Michigan, Sault Ste. Marie, Ironwood and Escanaba have been designated key air raid warning centers. Upper Michigan plane spotters' observations are relayed to a filter center in Green Bay which will evaluate and chart aircraft, and determine if hostile. The lower peninsula filter center is at Grand Rapids.

Filter stations relay reports to interceptor air command posts at Civil Defense control centers.

About 50 Escanaba men are enrolled in the volunteer ground observers' corps, which meets tonight in city hall at 7:30 p. m.

C. S. Leonard, safety director, is chief observer.

Hospital

Mrs. Henry DeGroot of Northland who has been receiving medical treatment at St. Francis hospital was released from the hospital yesterday and taken by ambulance to her home.

The condition of Chester Wilson, 79, of Cornell, who suffered serious burns early Tuesday morning when his house burned, is reported poor. He is receiving treatment at St. Francis hospital for burns on his right leg, right and left hands and the right side of his face.

Victor Everard, 66, of 1835 Third avenue north, who was injured when hit by a car Saturday evening, is reported in fair condition at St. Francis hospital. Everard suffered head lacerations and a broken right arm. His condition is improving.

Cardinals Remain Here This Winter

More unusual than the recent arrival of flocks of robins in this section of the north country is the addition of cardinals to the bird population which remains here throughout the winter. Mrs. John McKeever, Ford River Road, calls attention to the fact that the cardinals with their bright plumage have been around her home throughout the winter, the first time during her long residence in Escanaba that this has occurred.

Big Powers Reluctant To Condemn Chinese Communists In U. N.

By A. I. GOLDBERG

LAKE SUCCESS—New delaying action today threatened a U. S. drive in the United Nations political committee to have Communist China branded formally as an aggressor in Korea.

Lukewarm attitude by other big powers, outright opposition by the Soviet bloc and another "last-hope" peace plan by 12 Asian-Arab countries stood in the way of a quick, decisive vote by the committee to support the U. S. proposal.

Peiping Trick Revealed
Warren R. Austin, chief U. S. delegate, was ready to take the floor again to condemn the Peiping regime's latest words—transmitted informally through India's ambassador to Peiping, and Sir Benegal N. Rau, India's delegate to the U. N. was a trick to split the non-Communist world.

A delegation source said it was highly likely that Austin would speak at today's meeting, but he predicted that debate possibly would continue through Friday.

The delegation still foresees more than 40 members of the 60-nation committee ranging alongside the U. S. on the final vote.

This, despite Prime Minister Clement Attlee's pronouncement

Organizing Army In Europe Won't Be Easy For Ike

after World War II. They are scared because they know war may start before the United States, Britain and France—the countries which really can do something—are strong enough to act.

Officials of the little nations have indicated they rearmament they may get going now would only invite retaliation from Russia if the Reds decided to sweep over Europe soon.

Congress May Balk
Eisenhower has answered that each nation must do its utmost. If one nation hangs back, another will use that as an excuse to hang back. And here is the kicker—

If they all hang back, the U. S. Congress will not vote the money to send arms and troops to Europe.

That argument has a sting in it. And what has Gen. Eisenhower's visit done to counteract this fear?

There is no hard answer. A fair estimate is that it has helped much. Long before Gen. Eisenhower was appointed, this correspondent talked to a number of European leaders about the war scare business and their answer was mainly the same.

"When the United States names a commander to direct rearmament and sends troops to Europe, then we will begin to have confidence."

But what is giving the most confidence in the west's chances are toiling, whirling gears in the factories of Detroit, Pittsburgh, Youngstown, Cleveland, Seattle, Los Angeles—and in the mysterious chemical workings in American atom plants.

Use Of Nickel Banned In Automobile Trim

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government today banned the use of nickel in automobile trim and in nearly 400 other civilian products.

The purpose is to conserve the short nickel supply for defense and essential civilian uses.

One of the most important defense uses of nickel is to make jet airplane engines resistant to great heat and corrosion.

The National Production Authority (NPA) made public a long list of products for civilians in which nickel silver or nickel plate may not be used in new manufacturing on March 1 and thereafter.

yesterday in the British House of Commons against any step to condemn Red China now as an aggressor.

Truce Efforts Continue
This, despite the agreement of 12 Arab-Asian nations last night to try for the fourth time to draft a Korean truce, cease-fire or peace plan that Communist China, Russia and the majority of the United Nations will accept.

Rau said the Arab-Asia group agreed last night to try again on the basis of the latest informal Peiping offer. This calls for a seven-nation meeting to take up—in order—a limited cease-fire, withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea, and removal of U. S. protection from Formosa. Red China, Peiping added, must be ensured of her "legitimate status" in the U. N.

The U. S. Senate joined the House of Representatives yesterday in demanding that the U. N. condemn Red China as an aggressor and bar the Chinese Communists from U. N. membership.

four Migs and damaged three others.

Capt. Allan J. Gilbert was credited with damaging one Mig Wednesday and Formosa. Richard T. Rutherford was credited with damaging two. Both are from Austin, Texas.

On the ground, a band of 500 rifle women showed seven miles south of Yongwol with a Red Korean force of 1,500 troops.

On the Western front, the Eighth Army communique reported that enemy troops had been seen entering the town of Ichon, 30 air miles southeast of Seoul.

Supplies Running Low
The communique said there was no contact in this sector. Headquarters said patrols were sweeping the eastern and central front in an effort to keep contact with the enemy, now showing a reluctance to fight.

All along the battlefield, Allied patrols flitted in and out of Red lines but turned up few Communists. Prisoners reported the Communists were hard pressed for supplies and ammunition.

Red infiltrators far behind Allied lines shot at U. N. troops. The force seven miles south of Yongwol included 500 women bearing rifles. Only infrequently have women been reported fighting with the Reds.

A.P. Correspondent William J. Waugh reported that a reinforced U. N. battalion returned to Wonju for the seventh time in eight days. It occupied both the town and airstrip to the southeast.

Car Collision—The left side of a car driven by Robert D. Bintner, 1219 North 18th street, and the front end of a car operated by John Strophich of 1427 Washington avenue, were damaged about 10 p. m., Tuesday in a collision at the North 14th avenue and 18th street intersection. Police report the Bintner car was struck in the left side by the Strophich car.

Are Fined—George J. Van-Damme of Route One, Rock, was fined $2 in justice court this week for disobeying a traffic signal at 14th and Ludington streets, and John S. Strophich, 1427 Stephenson avenue, was fined $5 for excessive speed. Strophich was ticketed Jan. 3.

Funeral services for Edward H. Gibbs were held at 2 this afternoon at the Anderson funeral home, Rev. Otto H. Steen officiating. Burial was in Lakeview cemetery.

Judge William J. Miller sang two requested hymns, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Old Rugged Cross." Mrs. Clovis Clovin was accompanist.

Pallbearers were R. Finley, Marcus Hansen, James Brown, Hartley Bagley, M. L. LaPlante and Elmer LeBlanc.

Vernon Gibbs of Cleveland, Mrs. Georgia Owens of Toledo, O. Miss Myra Anderson of Green Bay and Miss Janet Anderson of Rockford attended the rites.

Fertile New Guinea Jungle Is Wasteland Under Volcanic Ash
SYDNEY, Australia —(AP)—Volcanic ash today hardened over a New Guinea wasteland—the once-fertile jungle home of thousands who may have died in weekend eruptions of 6,000-foot-high Mt. Lamington.

"Horrible gray devastation is all that remains," said one newspaper correspondent who flew over the area in which officials said 3,000 persons—including 34 Europeans—were believed to have perished.

Known Dead In Alpine Avalanche Near 170
VIENNA—(AP)—Aviators dipping perilously into misty valleys and thousands of men on skis and afloot carried out rescue missions in avalanche-stricken Alpine Europe today.

In Austria, Switzerland and Italy it was established that at least 163 persons have been killed by masses of snow and boulders sliding down mountain sides.

The figure will certainly be higher, said officials, as reports come in from hundreds of tiny communities isolated by the worst avalanches of the century.

Casualties In Korea Increase To 46,201
WASHINGTON—(AP)—A week's increase of 1,064 in Korean war casualties was reported today by the defense department. This raised the total to 46,201.

The total includes casualties whose next of kin were notified through midnight, Jan. 19. It compares with 45,137 in the department's last previous weekly report.

Total Army casualties were 37,953, Navy 519, Marines 7,369, and Air Force 360. Total deaths were Army 5,971, Navy 67, Marines 1,325, Air Force 136.

Bounties Drop Off
LANSING —(AP)—State bounty payments on foxes, coyotes, bobcats and wolves fell off to $8,400 in December from the November total of $13,620. The last month's payments were also below when bounties totaled $10,065. December payments were made for 1,173 foxes, 133 coyotes, 22 bobcats and one wolf.

Escanaban Arrives Safely In Alaska; Travels By Car

Covel Royce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Royce, 220 South Fourth street, who left Escanaba Jan. 12 to motor to Alaska, arrived safely at Anchorage Jan. 20.

Royce, who is an employee of the government auditing department at Fort Richardson, Alaska, came to Escanaba Dec. 1, from Anchorage, for a holiday visit with his parents.

He made the 4,023-mile trip on the Alcan highway in nine days. Near White Horse, in the Yukon country, the thermometer went as low as 55 degrees below zero, Covel states in a letter to his parents.

Royce, who has been working for the government at Anchorage the past five years, reports he had no trouble enroute.

Capt. Allan J. Gilbert was credited with damaging one Mig Wednesday and Formosa. Richard T. Rutherford was credited with damaging two. Both are from Austin, Texas.

On the ground, a band of 500 rifle women showed seven miles south of Yongwol with a Red Korean force of 1,500 troops.

On the Western front, the Eighth Army communique reported that enemy troops had been seen entering the town of Ichon, 30 air miles southeast of Seoul.

Supplies Running Low
The communique said there was no contact in this sector. Headquarters said patrols were sweeping the eastern and central front in an effort to keep contact with the enemy, now showing a reluctance to fight.

All along the battlefield, Allied patrols flitted in and out of Red lines but turned up few Communists. Prisoners reported the Communists were hard pressed for supplies and ammunition.

Red infiltrators far behind Allied lines shot at U. N. troops. The force seven miles south of Yongwol included 500 women bearing rifles. Only infrequently have women been reported fighting with the Reds.

A.P. Correspondent William J. Waugh reported that a reinforced U. N. battalion returned to Wonju for the seventh time in eight days. It occupied both the town and airstrip to the southeast.

Weight Tax Funds Paid To Counties Total $38,275,451

LANSING—Counties, cities and villages in Michigan will receive $733,153 collected by the state in weight tax during the fourth quarter of 1950.

The entire proceeds of the tax are returned to local units for use on streets and roads.

The last payment of the year brings the total distributed to $38,275,451, an increase of $3,919,213 over the $34,356, 231 collected in 1949.

The distribution by Upper Peninsula counties:

Alger, $1,965; Baraga, $1,918; Chippewa, $3,288; Delta, $3,392; Dickinson, $2,693; Gogebic, $3,200; Houghton, $3,322; Iron, $2,659; Keweenaw, $1,316; Luce, $1,597; Mackinac, $1,792; Marquette, $4,738; Menominee, $3,459; Ontonagon, $2,246; Schoolcraft, $1,879.

These counties included Kent (Grand Rapids), Kalamazoo, Oakland (Pontiac), Jackson, Genesee (Flint), and Muskegon. Bay county estimated two more months would see the supply drained.

Wayne county (Detroit) officials declined to estimate.

In Washtenaw county (Ann Arbor) chairman William E. Brown said the supply of bachelors was virtually exhausted—except for the county's youngest draft eligibles, the 19-year-olds.

These can't be sent to induction centers until state headquarters gives the go-ahead, he said. And that hasn't come yet.

In Genesee county (Flint) they aren't drafting as many youths as other places of comparable size because volunteer enlistments have been "terrific." Such enlistments reduce the county's draft quota. Genesee's March quota is down to only 59 men.

POINTED OBJECTION—A diaper pin in the brief outfit of June McCall became the point of contention between Washington, D. C., censors and a Hollywood tie-up book publisher. Censors said the diaper pin was much too suggestive, and banned mailing of the book until it was deleted.

Married Man May Be In Draft Soon

veterans should last for three or four months on the basis of present and projected quotas.

2—As far as setting arbitrary marriage deadlines for deciding whether a man is draft eligible, that's strictly a policy for each local board to decide.

3—If future quotas were kept the same as now, the inclusion of 18-year-olds would materially delay induction of married men or veterans.

Just how long the 18-year-olds would delay the induction of married men or veterans it's impossible to say.

Would Cover Quotas
But it's interesting to note that 3,000 to 4,000 men reach the age of 18 each month in Michigan. This figure is not far off from the current monthly draft quotas, which follow:

January—Overall call was 4,420 men with 3,844 actually inducted. February—Overall call 4,513 with 3,925 actually inducted. March—Overall call 4,218 with 3,515 actually inducted.

A survey of Michigan's more populous counties shows local boards think the supply of single men will last for roughly three months if present rates of induction are maintained.

These counties included Kent (Grand Rapids), Kalamazoo, Oakland (Pontiac), Jackson, Genesee (Flint), and Muskegon. Bay county estimated two more months would see the supply drained.

Wayne county (Detroit) officials declined to estimate.

In Washtenaw county (Ann Arbor) chairman William E. Brown said the supply of bachelors was virtually exhausted—except for the county's youngest draft eligibles, the 19-year-olds.

New Ford Ore Ship Contract Awarded River Rouge Works

DETROIT—(AP)—The Ford Motor company today announced award of a contract to build a new ore ship to the Great Lakes Engineering Works of River Rouge.

Del S. Harder, vice president in charge of manufacturing, said Ford had decided to add the new carrier to its present fleet of two rapidly expanding needs for vital raw materials and steel.

The new ship, to be named the William C. Ford after the youngest of the three Ford brothers, will surpass in size Ford's present carriers, the Henry Ford II and the Benson Ford.

Specifications call for an overall length of 647 feet and a beam of 70 feet, with a capacity of 19,000 tons.

The new vessel is scheduled for completion in time for start of the 1953 shipping season.

Rosie Didn't Urge A-Bomb For Chinese Reds, Air Chief Says

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, air force chief of staff, says he is sure Maj. Gen. Emmett (Rosie) O'Donnell, until recently in charge of bombing in Korea, did not urge the "immediate use of the atom bomb on Communist China."

Nevertheless, General Vandenberg reminded O'Donnell in a friendly letter made public by the air force yesterday that airmen must "use care" when making public statements.

Meantime, the Army said an order issued shortly after O'Donnell spoke to a news conference was intended to encourage officers to do more talking. Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) told the House yesterday a "gag" order went out after O'Donnell spoke binding officers to support administration policies in any public comments on military and foreign matters.

O'Donnell spoke to newsmen last week at March Air Base, Calif., upon his return from his post as chief of the far east bomber command to head the 15th air force, part of the strategic air command. His remarks created a flurry of pro and con comment in Congress.

Vandenberg wrote that "after personal investigation I am now confident your remarks did not urge" the "immediate use of the atom bomb on Communist China." This was apparently a matter of interpretation. O'Donnell has not claimed he was misquoted by reporters at the air base. He told them, "I think we would be very effective with the ultimate weapon against Red China." Asked what he meant by the "ultimate weapon," O'Donnell replied, "the atom bomb."

Gen. O'Donnell's Talk Plays Into Reds' Hands

By MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON — If Moscow had prepared it for one of the Soviet's propaganda broadcasts, the interview given by Major General Emmett (Rosie) O'Donnell could not have served better the purposes of World Communism. Above all, the timing was ideal from the Russian point of view.

The O'Donnell interview came just as the United States delegation at Lake Success was trying to persuade reluctant delegates of Asian and European countries to go along with the resolution declaring Communist China an aggressor. These delegates, or rather their respective countries, are fearful that the initial resolution is merely the first step leading to unlimited conflict with China.

So along comes the general and in his brash, gay way says that we must drop the atomic bomb on China. He is just back from the Far East Bombing Command. He is a professional soldier, presumably. Yet he talks about high policy, telling the world that this is already a global war.

Arouses Asia's Hate
Moreover, it is the way in which he put it that makes it so useful propaganda-wise to Communist imperialism. Undoubtedly it is going out day and night on hundreds of Russian-controlled transmitters.

"They'll understand the lash when it's put to them," says General O'Donnell. Here for every Asian is a picture of the bent back submitted to the lash of the white master. For Asians everywhere, and not just alone the handful of Communists that have China in a tyrannical grip, this is the old colonialism in a new atomic form.

The reluctance of many of the U. N. delegates has been based on the fear that the first step—declaring China an aggressor—would lead to precisely what General O'Donnell was talking about. That is to say, an unlimited war with atomic bombs which would spread the utmost chaos and destruction in Asia and end after an indefinite period of years with the implacable hatred of all of Asia for the West.

It is here, in my opinion, that the responsibility falls on those advocating aggressive action against China to show how such action can stop short of just this result. If there are any military men who believe as he does. Then the pressure for use of what General O'Donnell calls "the ultimate weapon" is bound to grow.

With even a few atomic bombs it would be possible to wipe out most of China's industry, her port facilities and her cities. Such a prospect must surely give the ardent advocates of Chiang Kai-shek some little pause. For it is hard to imagine Chiang welcomed back to the Chinese mainland after his friend and ally had perpetrated the vast slaughter which such bombing would mean.

Setback for Peace
The irresponsible interview is likely to set back the efforts of the U. S. delegation at Lake Success. It will be used to the fullest extent in the delegates' lounge by those who want to discredit American intentions.

American lead on the China resolution. To go against it would be to arouse congressional opinion of the sort that talks about penalizing Europe for any show of "appeasement" in Asia. The plan of unified defense for the North Atlantic nations would be jeopardized, if not lost.

But the new talk of use of the atomic bomb will spread fresh doubts and stir new political currents in Europe. The pressures will quickly build up for resisting what will seem to be an American plan for total war on China.

No responsible official, so far as I have been able to learn, harbors any such plan. Nevertheless it seems to me that an official statement from either the president or the secretary of state should state the limit of American intentions. It should state the very least delicate the present scope of our policy, even though it is clearly recognized that later events may make it impossible to stay within such a limited framework. And it therefore would go a long way toward reassuring opinion both at home and abroad.

General O'Donnell has a deserved reputation as one of the outstanding leaders in the bombing field. The pity is that so frequently our skilled and able professional soldiers stray in an undisciplined fashion into fields where they have no business at all and where their lack of knowledge and understanding is painfully evident. If the chief of the U. S. delegation to the U. N., Warren Austin, should give an interview telling the bomber command how to conduct operations, it would be good for a one-day laugh. But this is just what General O'Donnell has done when he essays to make Far Eastern military-political policy. The result in this instance, however, happens to be pretty serious.

Combat Engineers Keep Army Going, Get Little Glory

By HAL BOYLE
WITH THE U. S. TROOPS IN KOREA—(AP)—The allies left a number of tanks in usable condition behind when they retreated from Pyongyang.

Who stayed to blow them up after the infantry had gone? The combat engineers.

The enemy had a strongly guarded minefield holding up a column of American tanks in the march on Waegwan. Who went up under fire and dug out the mines?

A top commander was worried lest the Reds hit his division in force. If he had to retreat, he feared that all his men would not be able to get out down the only road. He called in the combat engineers. They immediately bulldozed him a completely new path across the hill.

In the early days of the Korean campaign the defense lines were desperately short of men. Who went up and fought and died in the foxholes with the regular infantry? The combat engineers.

Work Always Dirty
These are just a few of the tasks performed by these men who are among least glorified figures in wartime, but without whom no modern army could get far.

Whenever the top brass meets a difficult military problem in the field the solution is: "Well, let's send up the combat engineers and see what they can do." Usually they find an answer.

The combat engineer takes pride in doing anything he is told to do. He is the odd-jobs man of the battlefield—soldier, laborer, logger, sanitary engineer and inventor.

His tools are rifles, bulldozers, axes, picks and shovels, barbed wire, dynamite and courage—and a resourceful mind.

His work is always dirty, often dangerous, never predictable, and usually unrecognized by folks back home.

Cowpen Battalion
He never knows from day to day whether he will have to take his turn in the battle line, repair a road, blow up an old bridge or build a new one, set out a minefield or just go out and purify some water for the troops.

In Korea the combat engineers once even served in the novel role of cowboys. That was at Masan.

"The native cattle were straying into our minefields or wandering through the lines and getting butchered by the Reds," said Lt. Avery Fullerton of Loudonville, N. Y.

"We had to build corrals for them and then go out and round them up. After that they called us the cowpen battalion."

REFUGEES FIND HAVEN
TORONTO—(AP)—Anthony Zichy and his wife, Marie, both members of families prominent in Hungary, are working in a hospital here after making their way from behind the Iron Curtain.

They hope some day to own a farm where Zichy can breed horses as he used to do in Hungary.

Americans are expected to consume 8,000,000 tons of sugar in 1951.

HEALTH

The housewife is calling her husband at his office to say she was delayed at the doctor's. Dinner's in the oven and he's to turn on the oven when he gets home. A telephone call saves him the anxiety of wondering what has detained his wife, and it also means dinner will be ready on time.

The private secretary has been on a business errand and is calling her office to see if there are any messages before she takes the bus home. She learns she is invited to meet a friend for dinner in half an hour, at a restaurant near where she is telephoning. Saved: The disappointment of not seeing her friend.

The salesman is talking to a prospective buyer he was driving out to see. The prospect is busy this evening but will see him tomorrow evening at seven. He has saved himself an unnecessary trip by telephoning.

The lawyer is calling the garage that's repairing his car, which he can't pick up until after closing time. He's asking them to leave it outside so he'll have the use of it this evening and avoid the inconvenience of being without a car.

Good, dependable telephone service benefits everyone. To be able to keep up the quality and increase the extent of its service, Michigan Bell must stay financially healthy.

Electronic Machines Replace 80 People Counting Old Money

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government will soon substitute machines for people in the job of counting paper money so badly worn it is retired from circulation. The step will save taxpayers about $250,000 a year, the government estimates.

The national bureau of standards developed the automatic, electronic counting machines. The treasury will install 25 of them to replace 80 people who have been counting the old currency by hand. The standards bureau's "electronic currency counters" can count 30,000 pieces of paper money an hour.

Mostly $1 Bills
Removing worn-out bank notes from circulation before substituting new ones involves redemption of about eight tons of currency every day. The bulk—about $5,000,000 worth—consists of $1 bills, and it is these bills that the machines are to count.

New paper money has been machine-counted for many years, but not the worn-out notes, which are wrinkled and dog-eared. Occasionally, single, torn notes are gummed together. Counting them has been too much for machines — up to now.

Old money deemed unfit for circulation is returned to the treasury by the federal reserve banks in stacks of 100 notes, cut in half lengthwise. The packets are counted at the treasury to double-check that each contains exactly 100 half notes, and is therefore okay for destruction by burning.

With the electronic counter in use, the only human activity required will be to place packets of the old bills on an inclined trough before the machine, and turn on the machine.

Separated By Air
The machine will pull each packet to it with a metal finger and spread the outer edges of the notes against a curved metal plate. A spindle will then rotate the ends of the notes while a jet of air separates the notes from the packet.

The counting will be done by using an electronic sensing device consisting of a beam of light and a photoelectric system. As the notes are unfurled, interrupting the beam of light, the photoelectric tube will count them by sensing interruptions of the beam.

There's one slight catch. The machine will just count the number of half-bills. It can't detect denominations. So if a federal reserve bank makes a mistake and binds up half a $2 bill in a packet of $1's, the machine won't detect the error.

Trick Lead Bricks Designed To Stop Radioactive Rays

NEW YORK — (AP)—New, wiggly-shaped lead bricks for better protection against radioactivity were announced by the National Lead company.

These bricks have the ordinary flat sides. But their edges and their ends are curved, so that one will fit into another, somewhat like putting your fist into a cup. Or, in carpenter's language, they are like tongue-and-groove boards, whose edges fit to shut out wind and water.

No Cracks
The purpose of the new wiggly bricks is the same, except that the grooves are made to shut out x-rays, gamma-rays of bombs, and any other fine-particle radioactive rays that might pass between the cracks formed when one brick is laid on top of another.

The atomic rays are so small that to them an almost invisible crack between two lead bricks looks as big as a chasm half a mile wide would look to a fly.

The new bricks are a byproduct of atomic energy work, where many tons of lead bricks are used to build walls to protect workers. Lead bricks made the quickest and easiest protective walls. They are important in emergencies.

The bricks are formed so that a right-angle turn can be made in a wall, without any crack at the corner.

In Two Sizes
The new bricks would serve in many circumstances as a shield against atomic bombs, in civil defense projects.

The shielding even close to the explosion would be either complete or so nearly complete that a little sickness might be the only bad result from radioactivity.

Handicaps are the expense of lead and its possible scarcity in quantities enough for civil defense.

The wiggly bricks are made in two sizes—one the size of an ordinary house brick, and the other half that big.

EISENHOWER

AT WEST POINT, class of 1915, Dwight Eisenhower got average marks, finished 61st in class of 164. He put in two seasons of football.

"I'm a soldier and I'll serve wherever I am asked to serve," said General Dwight D. Eisenhower, when reports pointed to his appointment as Supreme Commander of the 12-nation North Atlantic defense force.

Eisenhower has already made his mark as one of America's great soldiers. A graduate of West Point, the Texas-born fighter won the Distinguished Service Medal in World War I for "unusual zeal and marked ability in the organization, and preparation of technical troops of the tank corps." Like other Regular Army officers, he saw service in various posts in the U.S. and the Panama Canal Zone. From 1935 to 1940 he was assistant to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines. He established a reputation as a tactician when he was chief of staff of the "blue army" in the 1941 Louisiana maneuvers.

World War II brought him his greatest honors. He headed the expeditionary force to North Africa in 1942, and less than two years later, as Supreme Commander of the Allied Expeditionary Force, gave the fateful word that started the Anglo-American invasion of Europe—one of the biggest gambles in military history.

A few months after the war, he was elevated to the Army's top position of Chief of Staff. In 1948 he took his farewell salute and followed into civilian life the millions of former GI's he commanded. He assumed the presidency of Columbia University. Now, at 60, he's prepared once more to don the uniform.

IN MANILA, 1939, wife pins Philippine medal on Lt. Col. Eisenhower, member of U.S. military mission.

Justice Court Has Busy Day

Five Offenders Arraigned Here

The Manistique justice court had a busy day yesterday. Five offenders were arraigned during the day on charges ranging from serving liquor to minors to disorderly conduct. The stiffest penalty imposed was 30 days in jail.

Warren Arrowood and Earl L. Orman, both of Route One, were arraigned on a charge of serving liquor to minors. After pleading guilty, Arrowood was given a 30-day jail sentence and Orman paid a fine of $10 and costs. The two men were arrested yesterday morning by the sheriff and state police on information furnished by two minor boys.

Also arrested and arraigned yesterday was Mrs. Clarence Harris, North Sixth street, on a disorderly charge. She was given a 10-day sentence after pleading guilty. Five minor children will be cared for by the county social welfare department during her stay in jail.

John Paul Olson, of Thompson, who was involved in an automobile accident Saturday night, was fined $25 and costs of $3.75 on a reckless driving charge. He was arrested by state police.

Wayne Adkins, Manistique township youth, was arraigned on a charge of stealing gasoline. He was placed in jail on a 10-day sentence until he can raise money to pay a $10 fine and costs. He was arrested by state police.

Adkins was fined $50 and costs last Friday in local justice court on a drunk driving charge.

Direct Relief Costs $28,589

Welfare Department Gives Yearly Report

Direct relief costs in Schoolcraft county last year amounted to $28,589.13, it is revealed in the annual report of the county board of social welfare submitted Monday to the board of supervisors.

In addition to local relief, payments totaling $2,915 were made to other counties.

Besides direct relief the welfare board expended $10,340.47 for hospital care and $7,672.96 for administrative costs. The department of vocational rehabilitation also was paid $45.45 from the county welfare fund.

The 1950 county allocation to the welfare fund totaled $32,000 and an advance of $2,789.17 was obtained from the 1951 allocation. This wiped out a 1949 deficit of $13,579.88 and left $21,209.29 available for welfare purposes.

State Pays $22,900

From this fund, after hospital and administrative costs were paid, a transfer of $3,150.51 was made to the direct relief account. Other income for direct relief included $22,900 from the state, $5,780.78 in refunds from other counties, and $131.26 in other refunds and cancellations.

A cash balance of $532.50 was left in the direct relief fund on December 31, 1950, but accounts payable amounted to $1,249.06, leaving a deficit of $696.56. The deficit in the welfare fund amounted to $8.21, represented by an unpaid account.

During the past year the welfare department operated on the basis of 90 per cent state and 10 per cent county participation in the direct relief fund. In 1951 the county must share a greater part of the burden, it was disclosed at the board meeting, with the state providing 60 per cent and the county 40 per cent of the relief burden.

Express Concern

Because of increased hospital costs revealed in the 1950 report, supervisors expressed concern over the increased percentage which must be borne by the county in paying for direct relief this year. It was indicated that the matter may be taken up again with the state if local welfare and relief costs appear to be projecting the welfare department into another deficit.

Present at the presentation of the report were August Carlson, Richard E. Freeland and William Phillips, members of the welfare board; Maria Tracy, director; and Benjamin Gero, accountant.

Churches Open At Noon During World Day Of Prayer, Friday, Feb. 9

Protestant churches in Manistique will be open for a half hour at noon on Friday, February 9, the World Day of Prayer, it is announced by Rev. William H. Schobert, president of the Manistique Ministerial association.

Churches will open at 12 and close at 12:30 for the convenience of people desiring to spend a brief period in meditation and prayer, he said. Rev. Schobert emphasized the need for prayer to help mankind solve the growing problems of the current world crisis.

County Board Orders Clamp On Purchases By Department Heads

The board of supervisors yesterday afternoon ordered a clamp placed on capital purchases by county department heads following revelation of a $26,790.70 overdraft last year in the county general fund.

City To Decide On Water Plan

Special Meeting Is Called For Jan. 29

A decision on reconstructing the city water system will be made by the municipal council at a special meeting January 29, it was indicated at a regular session of the city board Monday evening.

At that time councilmen expect to make up their minds on the engagement of engineers to draft complete plans for the proposed work.

The rebuilding of the system, including the replacement of the present wood stave gravity main and the possibility of erecting a filtering plant, was discussed at length at Monday's meeting.

Francis Present

Present at the session was George W. Francis, Saginaw engineer, who already has made preliminary studies of the project. He recommended that the city give priority to the water system, even ahead of the proposed sewage disposal plant which the state is insistent that the municipality build.

Francis explained the procedure of floating revenue bonds on the water system, now that increased rates make this possible, and said that his engineering firm could have plans for the work completed in about 30 days. He suggested that the city ask for separate plans for building a new concrete gravity main and for constructing a filtering plant so that bids for one or both projects could be sought if the council so desired.

He also recommended that the city wait for a court order from the state before proceeding with the disposal plant.

Tractor Sold

The council also approved the sale of an old tractor for $1,400, authorized the purchase of $150 worth of advertising space in a proposed new resort folder, and decided to compromise three delinquent water accounts at the rate of 50 cents per month. These are accounts in which the amount due the city is debatable and which have never been billed by the city water department.

Action on new garbage and taxicab ordinances, presented by City Attorney William Hood, was deferred until the next regular meeting. Also deferred was action on purchasing a new pump for use in case of a water emergency, recommended by City Manager H. W. Heideman. Councilmen instructed that an effort be first made to determine if pumps of adequate capacity were available in local industrial plants.

City Briefs

Lt. John D. Boyle, Naval reservist called for active duty, left Tuesday to report for Naval intelligence duty in Washington, D. C. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. David Boyle, who will visit in Philadelphia with her daughters, Mrs. Catherine Miller and Mrs. Margaret Schramm.

Mrs. Thomas McKenzie has returned from Detroit where she spent three weeks visiting her mother, Mrs. Thomas Kendall, and other relatives.

Thomas McKenzie is a patient at the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. William Clifton, of Cooks, are the parents of a son, born Tuesday at the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Stanley Shust and son, Harold, returned Tuesday evening from Reed City, where they were visiting with her mother, Mrs. Frank Berger.

Donald Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jackson, 412 Arbutus avenue, spent the weekend visiting with his parents. Donald is a student at the Soo Branch of the Houghton College of Mining and Technology.

Word has been received here that Miss Geraldine Sablack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sablack, River road, is a patient at St. Mary's hospital, in Flint. Her condition is reported good.

Thomas McKenzie is a medical patient at the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital and it is announced that he is allowed no visitors.

Word has been received here that Donald Quinn, son of Mrs. Otto Schubring, 111 S. Third street, is now stationed at Camp Carson.

Mrs. Frank Bouchard, of Newberry, and Mrs. Harry Rush, of South Bend, Ind., are here visiting with Mrs. George Wilson.

It has been reported that the condition of Mrs. George Wilson is improving. Mrs. Wilson is a patient at the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital.

overdraft last year in the county general fund.

The board also ordered that an analysis of the overdraft be made by the county clerk and submitted for study to William W. Davidson, chairman of the finance committee.

A resolution offered by Wells Bowers and supported by Herbert Burns provided that department heads must obtain approval from the proper county board committee chairman before making an expenditure of $25 or more for capital equipment or the replacement of such equipment. Normal operating supplies are not included in the resolution.

Fyvie Dissents

The resolution passed with Dr. James H. Fyvie casting the lone dissenting vote.

Subdivisions of the county which control their own finances are not covered by the resolution. These include the road commission, the county hospital, the board of social welfare and the soldiers' and sailors' relief commission.

Davidson, Doyle township supervisor and former chairman of the board, was extremely critical of the overdraft and requested that it should be studied by a committee of supervisors.

Operate Within Budgets

He insisted that department heads and various county board subdivisions be required to operate within their budgets, and that if an overdraft of the budget appeared necessary the matter should be brought to the attention of the supervisors before decisions occurred. Budgets are meaningless if they can be overdrawn in this manner, he said.

Most of the county's capital expenditures come under the jurisdiction of the building and grounds and the county airport committees, it was pointed out. A. W. Heitman, city supervisor is chairman of the airport committee.

Meeting Goes To Three Days

Supervisors Still In Session Today

The board of supervisors concluded the second day of its annual meeting at 5 p. m. yesterday without getting to the controversial Indian lake level project.

The board was slated to reconvene this morning at which time the lake matter was expected to be discussed.

Most of yesterday was devoted to hearing the annual report of the county road commission. Other reports heard during the day included those of the soldiers' and sailors' relief commission, the county agricultural agent, the district 4-H club agent, and the county fire department.

Two resolutions were passed by the supervisors yesterday afternoon, one calling for an adjustment in old age assistance to a cost-of-living index and the other requesting the state legislature to provide more premium money at state fairs for Michigan potato exhibits.

The resolution on potato premiums directed attention to large premiums offered at the Michigan state fair for inconsequential items like pigeons and the small premiums allocated to potatoes, one of the state's principal crops.

A total of $2,570, for example, was set aside for pigeon premiums at the state fair last year while the potato exhibits were apportioned only $326, the resolution pointed out.

Harris Given Year In Prison

Sentenced Monday At Munising Court

William Harris, of Manistique, was sentenced to one year in Marquette branch prison at hard labor by Circuit Judge Herbert W. Runnels at Munising Monday afternoon.

Harris was arraigned during the opening day of the Alger county court term on a charge of escaping jail. He was taken to Munising by Sheriff Howard A. Hewitt and Prosecuting Attorney William J. Sheahan.

Harris, arrested a week ago on a charge of furnishing liquor to minors, escaped from the local jail last Tuesday but was quickly recaptured. He was serving a 60-day sentence at the time.

Report Made On Local Hospital

Building, Equipping Cost Is Nearly Paid

Only $12,679.87 remain unpaid on the cost of constructing and equipping the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital, it is revealed in the first annual report of the hospital board of trustees, presented to the board of supervisors Monday afternoon by A. J. Cayia, chairman.

Total cost of building and equipping the institution was $393,544.93, of which $380,875.06 have been paid, he reported.

Unpaid items include $947 on the general contract of $185,760.50, $1,519.65 on grading, walks, roads, etc., $2,622.62 on cubicle curtains, and $7,600 on equipment. The unpaid balance on the general contract represents a small amount of work yet to be completed and the cubicle curtain balance resulted from the purchase of this equipment at a much lower cost than anticipated, the chairman said. The balance of $7,600 in the equipment fund also developed from economies affected by making purchases in advance before price rises.

The purchase of some additional equipment, however, is contemplated, and this will reduce this balance, the report reads.

Some Pledges Unpaid

The report, covering the period from June 1 to December 31, reveals that unpaid pledges amount to $3,353.43. Amount of the federal grant approved but unpaid is $4,063.33.

Sources of income for building and equipping the hospital are listed as follows in the report: Pledges paid, $118,281.15; W. K. Kellogg Foundation, $12,200.28; bond issue, $150,000; federal grant paid, $123,843.67. Total income is $406,325.10.

Hospital cash income during the first seven months of operation amounted to $56,980.63. Expenses total $66,851.50. After making provision for petty cash of $200, the operating deficit for the period was $9,670.87, but there are accounts receivable totaling $16,191.41 which would more than eliminate the cash deficit, the report reveals.

31 Highest Patient Load

An average census of 24 patients daily is required to break even in operations, the statement shows. During the period covered, the highest patient load was 31 and the lowest 11 giving 64.6 as the percentage of occupancy.

During the seven months of 1950 the hospital personnel included 30 full time employees, one part time employee, and the administrator. A total of 783 patients were treated in the hospital and there were 395 outpatients.

The report in conclusion states: "The record of service rendered by this hospital has been commendable and one that the community may well be proud of. We wish to draw your attention to the earned income of the hospital for the reported period is $6,000 in excess of the operating expenses for the same period due to some accounts that remain unpaid."

actually have a deficit, whereas if all accounts were collected to Jan. 1, including accounts due from patients not yet discharged, paid. The record shows that we would actually break even on a straight operating basis."

Civil action to collect accounts over 60 days past due is being taken by the hospital, the report indicates.

Construction of an addition to the central store room is contemplated for 1951, the report shows. A federal grant for one-third of the cost has been assured.

465 Births, 281 Deaths In Schoolcraft, Alger Counties Are Reported

Vital statistics contained in the annual report of the Alger-Schoolcraft Health department, presented Monday to the board of supervisors by Dr. E. J. Brenner, acting director, reveal that a total of 465 babies were born in Alger and Schoolcraft counties in 1950. Alger county had 232 births, Schoolcraft 213. Of this total, 453 were delivered in hospitals and 12 in homes. Physicians delivered 461 of the infants, midwives and fathers three.

Deaths reported in the two counties for the year totaled 218, with 110 in Alger and 108 in Schoolcraft. This is a marked decrease, the report states.

Commenting on the vital statistics figures, the report states:

More Hospital Births

"According to our first annual report for the year 1938, there were 416 live births in the area but only 138 (33%) were delivered in hospitals. This alone is a great improvement in maternal and infant care to have over 97% of the deliveries in hospitals in 1950. We believe that much of this is due to the 5-year maternal and infant care program in Alger and Schoolcraft counties sponsored by the federal government and followed by the emergency and infant care program for veterans during the war.

"Heart disease continues to be the No. 1 killer of Alger and Schoolcraft residents, accidental deaths second and cancer a close third. In Michigan as a whole, cancer is second. There were no deaths reported due to smallpox, diphtheria, undulant fever or typhoid fever. There was one death from poliomyelitis in Schoolcraft and one death from syphilis in Alger.

"In 1950, tuberculosis caused three deaths, two in Alger and one in Schoolcraft. In 1938, there were 11 deaths, eight in Alger and three in Schoolcraft."

Communicable Diseases

During the past year 32 cases of communicable disease were reported to the department in the two counties, 10 of which were polio and all of them were in Schoolcraft county. In 1938 there were 779 cases of communicable disease reported.

A drop in the number of venereal disease cases reported occurred in 1950 compared to the war years, the annual report indicates. Last year 29 cases were reported as compared to 65 in 1946.

Forteen new cases of tuberculosis were reported last year in the district and 25 patients were hospitalized. At the end of the year, Schoolcraft had 10 patients and Alger 21 in hospitals.

A total of 3,005 chest x-rays were taken in the two counties during the year, 1,734 in Alger and 1,271 in Schoolcraft. In 1938, only 327 x-rays were taken in the district.

Ends 13th Year

The department has completed its thirteenth year of service in the two counties. The main office is located in Manistique. The board of health in charge of the district is composed of representatives of the Alger and Schoolcraft county boards of supervisors, who are: Alger: Robert Runsat, chairman, Louis Dowell and William Duffett; Schoolcraft, A. W. Heitman, Dr. James H. Fyvie and Bert C. Furst.

The staff besides the acting director includes Raymond LaFave, sanitarian, of Manistique; Pauline Carstensen, R. N., of Manistique; Jeanne Artibe, R. N., of Munising; Cecil Keller, of Manistique; and Malina Miller, of Munising. Claire Corriveau served as nurse at the Munising office until Sept. 30 when her place was taken by Jeanne Artibe. The sanitarian, it was reported, has resigned and this vacancy remains to be filled.

The Lions club met for a chicken dinner at the high school gym prepared and served by Joe Gastmair and Oliver Lund.

Jerry Pearson who was 9 years old Friday entertained his brother Melville and Danny Short and Bobby Caswell at the pancake supper served by the Calvary Brotherhood. The group returned to the Pearson home for games following the supper.

Miss Lois Grandchamp, a student nurse at St. Luke's hospital in Marquette, is seriously ill. Her mother, Mrs. John Grandchamp, went to Marquette to be with her.

Mrs. Henning Johnson of Ensign who was a surgical patient at St. Francis hospital is convalescing at the home of her brother-in-law, Ted Johnson, north of town.

The sale of newspapers on the streets of colonial America was rare until after the early 1830's, notes the National Geographic Society. Previously, the papers were delivered to subscribers by post riders, who announced their arrival in each settlement by loud horn blasts.

Methodist Church To Observe Anniversary

A banquet commemorating the 62 anniversary of the founding of Memorial Methodist church is to be held on the evening of Monday, January 23.

Anniversary services will be held in the church this coming Sunday.

Details of the banquet program are now being arranged.

Members and friends of the church may attend the dinner. Tickets may be obtained from either Mrs. Soren Johnson or Mrs. Marvin Larsen.

Founding of the church dates back to November of 1887 when the first pastor was sent here by the Detroit conference.

The church has been served by a resident pastor since that time.

During the 63 years of the church's existence it has been served by 19 different pastors, records disclose.

The first was James Pascoe and then followed in turn Philip Price, P. C. J. Macauley, O. J. Blackford, William Gridland, A. R. Johns, Thomas J. Mott, David H. Yokum, Hugh H. Harris, E. J. Warren, Frank N. Miner, Frank M. Field, Grant M. Perkins, D. D. Nagle, O. J. Lyon, H. W. Colenso, Ira W. Corgo, Ivan O. Gonsler, William C. Donald II and Glenn E. L. Kjellberg, the present pastor.

An additional character, the cowardly braggart, Goodheart Manning adds a good deal of comedy to the operetta.

The operetta, under the direction of Gerald Banaszak, is the chief musical presentation of the school year.

The cast of characters is as follows:

Miss Standish—Leo Fallstrom
Priscilla Mullins—Charlotte Huff
John Alden—Ivan Majestic
Goodheart Manning—Ronald Talvite
William Mullins—Merrill Pederson

Councilor—Wayne McMartin
Indian Chief—John Paul Young

Pay Hike Given City Employees

$12 Per Month, 7 1/2¢ Hour Authorized

Pay increases were granted employees of the City of Gladstone at a regular meeting of the city commission Monday evening.

Monthly employees were granted salary boosts of $12 monthly and hourly employees will receive a hike of 7 1/2 cents per hour.

This is the third pay raise to meet rising costs of living granted city employees in the past year; the first was $5 per month in May, the second $10 per month in November.

The increase was requested by city employees in a petition presented the commission at the regular meeting two weeks ago.

Authorization was given City Manager Henrikson to attend the annual City Managers convention at Ann Arbor Feb. 14-16.

4-F Athletes Warned They May Be Drafted

(By The Associated Press)

Professional and amateur athletes got implicit notice today from Defense Secretary George Marshall that 4F's probably will find themselves drafted in the present emergency if the necessity demands.

If inducted, Marshall said, the men could be used in non-combat duty, thus relieving more of the physically fit for the fighting front.

The question arose at a session of the House Armed Services committee in Washington yesterday when it was recalled that many athletes who failed to pass selective service physical examinations were deferred in the last war.

Although it was not specified, Pentagon officials later made it plain that if it was decided to draft the 4F's, not only athletes but men from all walks of life would be affected.

Long Eyed 4Fs
Actually, unless the international situation requires drastic changes in mobilization requirements, such sports as major league baseball and football will feel little effect under present regulations.

The present draft applies only to men from 19 through 25 years of age, and exempts veterans of World War II and married men with dependants. Rosters of most of the professional clubs are stocked with players who saw service in the last war, are 26 or over, or are married.

At the Pentagon it was said officials have been talking about the 4F's for several weeks. The selective service boards are nearing the bottom of the barrel filling quotas with those meeting present physical requirements.

Erv Palica, 23, Brooklyn Dodgers pitcher who failed to pass his physical last November, passed a new examination yesterday. He suffered high blood pressure, but now is expected to be inducted within three weeks.

Not Consistent
Others who might be called for limited service include such baseball players as Ralph Branca, Brooklyn pitcher, outfielder Joe Adcock and pitcher Herm Wehmeier of the Cincinnati Reds; Mickey McDermott, Boston Red Sox pitcher; Cass Michaels, Washington Senators second sacker; Mickey Mantle, rookie shortstop going south with the New York Yankees; Eddie Kazak, St. Louis Cardinals third baseman; and pitcher Jim Pearce of Washington.

It was recalled that in January 1945 before the fall of Germany and Japan, the army said professional athletes would no longer be rejected for physical disability until their cases had been reviewed by the war department.

This announcement commented on the "inconsistency of rejecting an athlete for an ailment which is not sufficiently serious to prevent him from participating in professional games and exhibitions."

Rep. Elston (R-Ohio) brought up this question when Marshall appeared yesterday to discuss the new bill.

"How could a fellow play baseball and yet not be physically fit to serve in some capacity?" Elston commented.

"If he can play baseball, it seems he would be fit to cook, drive a truck or service a plane."

Minors Study Draft Effects

COLUMBUS, O. — (AP)—A series of nine regional meetings starting this weekend may have a lot to do with how successful a season minor league baseball has in 1951—its golden anniversary year.

The national association of professional baseball leagues (minors) has invited representatives from all its 420 clubs to attend. The first meeting will be Friday and Saturday in Des Moines, Ia., for officials of midwest leagues and clubs.

Baseball men will talk over the organization's two biggest problems:

1. How to increase attendance at minor league games, and,
2. How to get enough players while the country is calling more and more young men to the armed forces.

President George M. Trautman of the association points out that there were 440 minor league clubs last year and are only 420 now. But he said "we're holding our own" considering the draft.

EASY VICTORY

OLIVET — (AP)—Kalamazoo college won an easy 79-53 basketball victory over Olivet last night. Forward John Stoneman led the Kalamazoo scoring with 21 points. Guard Pete Kracala was high scorer for Olivet with 16 points.

MEET ENLARGED

EAST LANSING — (AP)—The Northwestern — Michigan State dual track meet scheduled here for Feb. 10 has been changed to a triangular affair with the addition of Penn State.

Stephenson Quint Clips Powers, 53-36

POWERS — Powers — Spalding cagers ran into a hot Stephenson team here last night and fell before superior height and shooting by a score of 53 to 36. Stephenson reserves also won the preliminary, 42 to 30.

The work of big Mike Michnick and his clever hook shot proved Powers' downfall. Michnick, a lanky boy with a good eye, netted seven field goals and five free throws for 19 points. His nearest contender was Ken Hofer with 10 points.

For Powers, Dave Lawrence got 11 points and Ernie Della Costa hit for 10.

Friday night Powers will entertain Rapid River in a Central league game.

Hicks Scores 23; Trenary Trips Rock

TRENNARY—John Hicks, junior forward, swished the nets for 23 points last night as Trenary trounced Rock, 54 to 30. Trenary reserves won their first game of the season in the preliminary by 29 to 27.

The first half of the feature game was fairly close but Trenary made it a runaway with a 22-point burst in the third period while Rock got only nine points.

Rock played without its highest scorer, Bill Westlund, who was ill. Allan Jokela, Rock, center, led his team with 11 points.

Trenary plays at Eben Friday night in a rivalry of one of Alger county's hottest basketball rivalries.

Coach Admonishes Crowd On Behavior

NEW YORK — (AP)—When he isn't preaching the "Golden Rule" Coach Everett Case is applying the "Iron Rod."

Before his North Carolina State basketball five took the floor against Virginia Tech last night, Case admonished the 8,000 spectators present to follow the golden rule in their behavior.

The former Hoosier explained that some teams felt they weren't getting a fair deal from the fans. Then his N. C. State athletes proceeded to swamp an outclassed Virginia Tech team, 114-66. The team total topped N. C. State's previous mark of 103 set earlier this season against Furman.

Case apparently took the floor to prevent a possible repeat performance by fans who did considerable booing Saturday while the Tar Heels defeated LaSalle, 76-64.

Home Towns Honor Grandelius, Dibble

EAST LANSING — (AP)—Two of Michigan State's football players will be honored at hometown celebrations.

Everett (Sonny) Grandelius, will be guest of honor at a Muskegon Heights banquet Jan. 25.

End Dorne Dibble will be honored Feb. 14 at an athletic award dinner at Adrian.

Both Grandelius and Dibble played in the East-West Shrine games and have signed pro contracts. Head Coach Biggie Munn will appear at both affairs.

NEW WOLVERINE CAPTAIN — Quarterback Bill Putich of Cleveland, Ohio, was elected captain of the 1951 University of Michigan football team today. Putich, a 20-year-old junior, becomes the first backfield captain Michigan has had since 1945. He succeeds tackle Al Wahl of Oak Park, Ill.

Pair Held In Fight Bribe; Charge Dive Taken

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (AP)—A gambler and a referee-promoter go on trial here Feb. 19 charged with bribing a Dallas heavyweight to throw his fight.

In extraordinary session, the Shelby county grand jury returned joint bribery indictments against Frank Casone and James A. Manley.

Both denied there was any "fixing" bout. Manley, who refereed the fight, staged Nov. 21, was previously indicted by a grand jury on a separate bribery charge.

They were accused of promising Russell H. (Buddy) Scott a percentage of the net gate receipts and a slice of "winnings from bets to be placed" on the fight. Dist. Atty. Gen. John Heiskell said Scott took a dive in his bout with Oscar Buchanan of Memphis. He said the fake knockout was rehearsed in Casone's hotel suite the night before the fight.

The state also contends a fight matching Johnny Edward Burke with a 62-45 victory.

Jim Kessler and Don Lewis were the big guns, Kessler hitting for 23 points and Lewis for 17.

George LeBrasseur, Andys' forward, was sensational on the foul line, netting 10 free throws to add to his two field goals for 14 points.

In fact, Andys' team scored 19 field goals on 17 Kessler fouls. On the other hand, the winners made only eight on 20 fouls.

Wait Windows nosed out K. of C., 45 to 44, in a thriller in which Dick Pryal hit for 13 and Harold VanEffen got 11. Ralph Sarnowski led the losers with 12.

In the third game, Don Ohman and Jim McCarthy got 10 points each to pace the Kiwanis to a 48 to 42 win over Clairmonts. Jim Nyquist got 15 points for the losers.

Tomorrow night, Groves Drugs meet McNeess at 6:30. Cleveland College plays Harnischfeger at 7:30 and Shamrocks play Andys in the windup.

Rapid River Rallies To Tip Perkins

RAPID RIVER—Trailing by four points at half time, Coach Norm Slough's Rapid River high school cagers caught fire in the third period here last night and hung on doggedly in the final frame to defeat a rugged Perkins crew, 41-38. It was a Central league game for third place.

Wilbur Oman, George Anderson and Merrill Pedersen sparked the 18-point third period uprising. Anderson netted 12 points and Pedersen 11 for the evening.

Top scoring went, however, to Perkins' Jim Vallier, who scored 15 points. Alfred Krouth got 12 and Ed Harris 10.

Perkins played without regular Ken Depuydt, who had an ankle injury, while a wrenched shoulder hindered Bill Goodman of Rapid River.

Rapid River grades defeated Perkins, 27 to 23.

Detroit Team Upsets DePaul

DETROIT — (AP)—Lawrence Tech's basketball team won a hard fought 65-63 victory last night over the highly regarded DePaul team from Chicago.

DePaul admittedly was the toughest foe Tech has taken on this season, but the Blue Devils met the test and won their 12th victory in a row. It was the first victory for Tech over a DePaul team in four attempts.

The score was tied 13 times in a thriller played before 5,919 fans at the Fairgrounds coliseum. It was Tech's most convincing showing of the season and may bring the team consideration for the post-season tournaments.

Ragelis, Sunderlage Top Big Ten Scorers

CHICAGO — (AP)—Three veteran players — Ray Ragelis of Northwestern, Don Sunderlage of Illinois and Ab Nicholas of Wisconsin — top the Big Ten's basketball scoring column this week.

Sharpshooting Ragelis has the best average per game of 20.4 points in five contests. He banged in 26 in Northwestern's latest outing, an 81-75 conquest of Ohio State.

Topping Ragelis' total of 102 points is Sunderlage's 114. The Illinois captain bucketed 27 against Iowa. Sunderlage's tally is in six games, giving him a 19 point average.

Nicholas, Wisconsin's long-shooting specialist from Rockford, Ill., has 93 points in five games for an 18.6 average.

Howe scored three goals against the Hawks last Wednesday night. He hit again last night with the opener at 1:56 of the first period, another at 1:59 of the second and a third at 8:33 of the final period.

Howe's hat trick was the fourth in the league this season. It was the fourth of Gordie's NHL career. He now has 22 goals this season. He has 53 points, far ahead of the field.

If you want to see three brothers and a brother-in-law go after each other with sticks, saunter out to the fairgrounds ice rink tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

You'll find the Escanaba Hawks meeting the Marquette Sentinels in a hockey battle in which both teams will be fighting to keep out of the cellar in the Northern Wisconsin-Michigan league standings.

The aforementioned family affair, of course, stems from the fact that Marc and Ted Olson of the Hawks front line are brothers of Roy Olson, high scoring center for the Sentinels. They also are brothers-in-law of Clarence Matt, rugged Sentinel defenseman.

Gingress, Kukuk Signed
When they get together over a festive board, all is peace and love. But on the ice, that's a different story. They come out swinging.

The Sentinels, after a slow start, have taken a new lease on life and, although they haven't won too many games, they have showed more fight since Jim Eady has taken over as coach.

Recent additions to the Sentinels include two colorful players, Morgan (Muggs) Gingress, assistant coach at Northern Michigan college, and Norman (Boots) Kukuk, who has resigned as Marquette city recreation director to enter Michigan State college where he will be assistant hockey coach while working on his master's degree.

New Defense Line
The Hawks looked good in a long workout last night in which Bob Porter was paired with Walt Bechtold on defense. These two probably will get the starting call tonight in front of Ben Arting.

Russ Hiltunen, who is developing fast, will be teamed on the front line with the Olsons. Harold Sampson will join Jim Ward on the second defense line.

Guy Pooe, Vic Cerra and Leighton Haugen will form a second front line to spell the Olsons and Hiltunen. Bud Provo and Lolly Rose will be on hand for duty as needed.

Hawk officials are negotiating with Johnny Karakas of Eveleth, Minn., Tom Lynott, in Toronto and Eud Jarvis, Fort Frances coach, in efforts to get a couple of good defensemen and another wing.

Gordie Howe Hits Hat Trick Again

CHICAGO — (AP)—Gordie Howe, the Detroit Red Wings star right wing, has done it again.

For the second time within six nights on Chicago Stadium ice he pulled the hat trick for the Wings as they smashed the Chicago Black Hawks 8-2 last night.

Detroit's victory before 7,488 fans raised its National hockey league lead to 10 points over idle second-place Toronto.

Chicago now has gone 18 straight games without a victory. The Black Hawks fell behind by 2-0 before the first period was half gone and steadily deteriorated.

Howe scored three goals against the Hawks last Wednesday night. He hit again last night with the opener at 1:56 of the first period, another at 1:59 of the second and a third at 8:33 of the final period.

Howe's hat trick was the fourth in the league this season. It was the fourth of Gordie's NHL career. He now has 22 goals this season. He has 53 points, far ahead of the field.

Miss Irene Cayia
Is The Bride Of
Frank J. Gravelle

RAPID RIVER — Miss Irene Cayia of Crystal Falls and Frank J. Gravelle of Rapid River were united in marriage at a ceremony performed at the Guardian Angels church in Crystal Falls Thursday, January 18. The nuptial high mass was celebrated by Father Carl J. Petranak.

Mrs. J. R. Davidson, organist, played the Mass in Honor of the Holy Angels. The traditional melody, "Adestamus Te Panem Coelitem" was sung at the offertory. Masciantoni's Wedding March and the Marchanti Wedding March were the processional and recessional. Baskets of pink snapdragons and white pompons decorated the church altars.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Arthur Cayia, wore a grey crepe street length dress with a beaded shoulder and neckline, and a small close-fitting black rose hat. Her colonial bouquet was formed of orchids and pompons with black rose streamers. The matron of honor, Mrs. Lloyd Belland, daughter of the bridegroom, wore a navy sheer with a pink sequin hat and she carried pink pinocchio roses, pink briarcliff roses and white pompons. Mr. Belland was best man.

Thirty guests were served at the 10:30 breakfast at the Crystal Inn. Yellow roses and a wedding bell decorated, the white cake and white takers in crystal holders and yellow pompons and roses were arranged with the cake.

Following a motor trip to Florida the couple will go by plane to the Canal Zone to remain until April. For traveling the bride wore an aqua tissue faille dress and black rose coat with grey fur trim. Her corsage of charrusse cypripedium was tied with silver ribbon.

The bride has been stenographer-clerk for the Iron county road commission. Her husband is retired from the U. S. Postal Department.

Wedding guests included Mrs.

GOLDEN WEDDING — Mr. and Mrs. Anselm Maki, of Eben Junction, observed their 50th wedding anniversary recently with a reception at the Eben community hall which was attended by several hundred neighbors and friends and 11 of their 12 children. Dancing was a part of the program, which began with Mr. and Mrs. Maki taking the floor first to the music of the "Anniversary Waltz". Both Mr. Maki, 71, and Mrs. Maki, who is 73, were born in Isojoki, Vaasanlaani, Finland. They came to the United States in 1901 after their marriage that year in Finland. They resided in Sandstone, Minn., until going to Eben in 1923. (Mildred Keeton Photo)

A. J. Dupras of Marquette, A. J. Cayia of Manistique, E. D. Cayia of Chicago and Mrs. Al Pedro of Vulcan.

Mrs. W. J. Belland of Rapid River is a cousin of the bride.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Belland of Iron Mountain were guests at the William J. Belland home Sunday. Charles Kirch left Tuesday for Kalamazoo where he will spend two months with his son, Roger, and family. From there he plans to go to Falls Church, Va., to visit with another son, Arnold, and members of his family.

Escape of furnace discharges into the home is prevented by a new automatic suction device which goes into operation when either the feed door or the ash door is opened or when the grate is shaken. Suction is by an electric blower which discharges into the chimney.

Port Huron Mother
Hopes To Get Son, 17,
Released In Korea

PORT HURON — (P) — Mrs. Winslow S. Shipley has wired the defense department asking that her twice-wounded 17-year-old son, Pfc. Ronald W. Shipley, be released from the army.

A Korean war veteran, Shipley was only 16 when he falsified his age to enlist, Mrs. Shipley claims.

Winner of the bronze star for valor, young Shipley telephoned his mother from a Tokyo hospital to tell her "I'm all right" and that he wanted to return to the Korean fighting "with my buddies."

"But," said Mrs. Shipley, "I'm putting my foot down and getting him out if I can."
